Not Real And Never Will Be:

The Voice of the Victim Robert Trainor, 2024-02-13 Originally entitled Sarcasm Murder and Outrage not only is this a clever murder mystery but it also doubles as a satirical tour through Darwin City and the modern world of guns murder and mayhem a mixture of slapstick comedy dark premonitions and a sweeping indictment of everything that Western culture has ever produced sassy and extremely irreverent sometimes romantic and poetic sometimes mocking and belligerent too bizarre for some too intense for others never trite but always real this is the most controversial book that you will ever read What follows is the Preface During the month of June in 1999 I became entangled in a number of tragic events that completely altered the way I came to look at life Although these incidents remained only locally significant and were not widely reported in the national media they are certainly dramatic enough to merit their space in print Beyond that however I discovered something that is far more important to me than the juvenile thrill of seeing my name on the cover of a book As the detection of a certain clue at a murder scene points inevitably to the perpetrator the experience of becoming a living victim led me to a realization that is actually despite many humorous interludes the subject of what you are about to read For legal ethical and poetical reasons I have changed the names of everyone who was involved in these crimes as well as the city where they occurred The names I have chosen were not arrived at casually but are an artistic attempt to portray the essential and true character of contemporary life It will be said that I exaggerate or that I am cynical and bitter but I view myself as an advocate for all the vanishing victims of our world because I have experienced in my mind the sounds of their screams They have not gone gently into oblivion but are screaming screaming to be heard The modern day martyrs have something to tell us and it is in my opinion far more relevant than what the living are propagating which amounts to nothing

Of Parties in General David Hume, 2020-09-28 OF all men that distinguish themselves by memorable achievements the first place of honour seems due to LEGISLATORS and founders of states who transmit a system of laws and institutions to secure the peace happiness and liberty of future generations The influence of useful inventions in the arts and sciences may perhaps extend farther than that of wise laws whose effects are limited both in time and place but the benefit arising from the former is not so sensible as that which results from the latter Speculative sciences do indeed improve the mind but this advantage reaches only to a few persons who have leisure to apply themselves to them And as to practical arts which encrease the commodities and enjoyments of life it is well known that men s happiness consists not so much in an abundance of these as in the peace and security with which they possess them and those blessings can only be derived from good government Not to mention that general virtue and good morals in a state which are so requisite to happiness can never arise from the most refined precepts of philosophy or even the severest injunctions of religion but must proceed entirely from the virtuous education of youth the effect of wise laws and institutions I must therefore presume to differ from Lord BACON in this particular and must regard antiquity as somewhat unjust in its distribution of honours when it made gods of all the inventors of useful arts such as CERES BACCHUS _SCULAPIUS and dignify legislators such as ROMULUS and THESEUS only with the appellation of demigods and heroes

A Girl Behind Burqa Jimil Patel,2020-09-21 We don t achieve everything we want and sometimes when we fail to fulfil the dream we have been seeing for years or our loved one leaves us we feel the purpose of our life ends here And some of us take a horrendous step like a suicide Why Sometimes destiny makes us to lose small battles so that we can win a war The same happens when a serious personality aaditya fails to crack an IIM interview because of his own drawback thus he wants to end his life Then a girl enters in his life who always hides herself behind a burqa Why is she hiding her identity Come Dive into the life of a boy who fears a lot Watch him crossing all the boundaries for the friendship and fall in love without seeing a face for that he believes True love isn t about faces because Pretty faces are merely better arrangement of biochemical

Democracy, Lifelong Learning and the Learning Society Peter Jarvis,2008-06-10 This is a book with a difference it produces a completely new perspective on lifelong learning and the learning society and locates them within humanity itself Five themes run through this book Humankind has always been aware of the imperfections of human society as a consequence it has looked back to a mythological past and forward to a utopian future that might be religious political economic or even educational to find something better Lifelong learning as we currently see it is like two sides of the same coin we learn in order to be workers who produce and learn we have a need to consume We then devour the commodities we have produced whilst others take the profits One of the greatest paradoxes of the human condition has been the place of the individual in the group community or conversely how the groups allow the individual to exist rather than stifle individuality Modernity is flawed and the type of society that we currently have which we in the West call a learning society is in need of an ethical overhaul in this late modern age There is a need to bring a different perspective both political and ethical on lifelong learning and the learning society in order to try to understand what the good society and the good life might become In Democracy Lifelong Learning and the Learning Society the third volume of his trilogy on lifelong learning Professor Jarvis expertly addresses the issues that arise from the vision of the learning society The book concludes that since human beings continue to learn so the learning society must be a process within the incomplete project of humanity All three books in the trilogy will be essential reading for students in education HRD and teaching and learning generally in addition to academics and informed practitioners The Lifelong Learning and the Learning Society Trilogy Volume 1 Towards a Comprehensive Theory of Human Learning Volume 2 Globalisation Lifelong Learning and the Learning Society Volume 3 Democracy Lifelong Learning and the Learning Society Peter Jarvis is an internationally renowned expert in the field of adult learning and continuing education He is Professor of Continuing Education at the University of Surrey UK and honorary Adjunct Professor in Adult Education at the University of Georgia USA
