Slow Motion Andie Miller, 2010 Slow Motion is a collection of non fiction stories essays and interviews about walking The collection has been written over a period of six years and so the book has become something of a documentary project witnessing transformation in South Africa through the eyes of pedestrians across the economic racial and age spectrum The book could be described as documenting recent history Though it inevitably looks at the issue of crime and how we have moved from a race based to a class based society and pedestrians of all colours continue to be marginalised and thought of as second class citizens in an increasingly autocratic society it is essentially an optimistic book It tells the stories of South Africans and visitors who have chosen to reclaim the streets from predators and traffic While the focus is primarily on Johannesburg several of the stories are about Cape Town contrasting the experience of walking in these two cities Other international cities such as Los Angeles Paris London and Mumbai are also visited along the way The style of the book is such that while it can be opened anywhere and each story can be read and enjoyed on its own a bedside table book the stories are interlinked as people's paths inevitably cross There is a bigger story at play as well The band of pedestrians includes writers artists political activists disabled people dogs and their owners Walk for Life members Jews on the Sabbath domestic workers refugees babies learning to walk and even a golfer and a caddie The purpose of the book is both to entertain and inform readers Publisher's website

Southern African Drama, Theatre and Performance Patrick J. Ebewo,2017-05-11 In spite of the rich repertoire of artistic traditions in Southern Africa particularly in the areas of drama theatre and performance there seems to be a lack of a corresponding robust academic engagement with these subjects While it can be said that some of the racial groups in the region have received substantial attention in terms of scholarly discussions of their drama and theatre performances the same cannot be said of the black African racial group As such this collection of thirteen chapters represents a compendium of critical and intellectual discourses on black African drama theatre and performance in Botswana Lesotho South Africa and Swaziland The topics covered in the book include amongst others ritual practices interventionist approaches to drama textual analyses and the funeral rites viewed as performance of the South African liberation icon Nelson Mandela The discussions are rooted mainly using African paradigms that are relevant to the context of African cultural production The contributions here add to the aggregate knowledge economy of Southern Africa promote research and publication and provide reading materials for university students specialising in the performing arts As such the book will appeal to academics theatre scholars cultural workers and arts administrators arts practitioners and entrepreneurs the tourism industry arts educators

Political Memory and the Aesthetics of Care Mihaela Mihai, 2022-01-11

With this nuanced and interdisciplinary work political theorist Mihaela Mihai tackles several interrelated questions How do societies remember histories of systemic violence Who is excluded from such histories cast of characters And what are the political costs of selective remembering in the present Building on insights from political theory social epistemology and feminist and critical race theory Mihai argues that a double erasure often structures hegemonic narratives of complex violence of widespread heterogeneous complicity and of impure resistances not easily subsumed to exceptionalist heroic models In dialogue with care ethicists and philosophers of art she then suggests that such narrative reductionism can be disrupted aesthetically through practices of mnemonic care that is through the hermeneutical labor that critical artists deliver thematically and formally within communities space of meaning Empirically the book examines both consecrated and marginalized artists who tackled the memory of Vichy France communist Romania and apartheid South Africa Despite their specificities these contexts present us with an opportunity to analyze similar mnemonic dynamics and to recognize the political impact of dissenting artistic production Crossing disciplinary boundaries the book intervenes in debates over collective responsibility historical injustice and the aesthetics of violence within political theory memory studies social epistemology and transitional justice

The Fall Baxter

Theatre Company, 2017-09-28 The Fall is a play collaboratively written by the original cast as a reaction to and reflection on the South African student protests in 2015 and part of 2016 The RhodesMustFall and subsequent student led movements in South Africa alerted the country and the world to the latent ongoing issues brought about by colonialism and apartheid in South Africa Students were also protesting about the lack of change in the way black Africans were educated and treated at South African universities more than two decades after the end of white minority rule They were also angry about fee increases which disproportionately affected black students in a country of continued extreme income inequality The Fall details the experiences of seven students within this movement and how they deal with their traumas while still moving towards activism for a free decolonised education This powerful ensemble piece goes to the heart of how race class gender power and history s voices intersect It premiered at the Baxter Theatre in Cape Town toured to other venues in South Africa and to the Edinburgh Festival and the Royal Court Theatre London It was awarded The Stage Cast Award and a Scotsman Fringe First award in Edinburgh and was described in The Stage as a truly ensemble production which has both teeth and heart And one which stands for student revolt around the world and down the ages

Forays into Contemporary South African Theatre ,2019-11-11 In the years that followed the end of apartheid South African theatre was characterized by a remarkable productivity which resulted in a process of constant aesthetic reinvention After 1994 the protest theatre template of the apartheid years morphed into a wealth of diverse forms of stage idioms detectable in the works of Greg Homann Mike van Graan Craig Higginson Lara Foot Omphile Molusi Nadia Davids Magnet Theatre Rehane Abrahams Amy Jephta and Reza de Wet to cite only a few prominent examples Marc and Jessica Maufort s multivocal edited volume documents some of the various ways in which the rainbow nation has forged these innovative stage idioms This book s underlying assumption is that creolization reflects the processes of identity renegotiation in contemporary South Africa and their multi faceted theatrical representations Contributors Veronica Baxter Marcia Blumberg Vicki Briault Manus Petrus du Preez Paula Fourie Craig Higginson Greg Homann Jessica Maufort Marc Maufort Omphile Molusi Jessica Murray Jill Planche Ksenia Robbe Mathilde Rogez Chris Thurman Mike van Graan and Ralph Yarrow

South African performance and archives of memory Yvette Hutchison,2015-11-01 This book explores how South Africa is negotiating its past in and through various modes of performance in contemporary theatre public events and memorial spaces It analyses the Truth and Reconciliation Commission as a live event as an archive and in various theatrical engagements with it asking throughout how the TRC has affected the definition of identity and memory in contemporary South Africa including disavowed memories Hutchison then considers how the SA Mali Timbuktu Manuscript Project and the 2010 South African World Cup opening ceremony attempted to restage the nation in their own ways She investigates how the Voortrekker Monument and Freedom Park embody issues related to memory in contemporary South Africa She also analyses current renegotiations of popular repertoires particularly songs and dances related to the Struggle revivals of classic European and South African protest plays new history plays and specific racial and ethnic histories and identities

The Cambridge History of South African Literature David Attwell,Derek Attridge,2012-01-12 South Africa s unique history has produced literatures in many languages in both oral and written forms reflecting the diversity in the cultural histories and experiences of its people The Cambridge History offers a comprehensive multi authored history of South African literature in all eleven official languages and more minor ones of the country produced by a team of over forty international experts including contributors from all of the major regions and language groups of South Africa It will provide a complete portrait of South Africa s literary production organised as a chronological history from the oral traditions existing before colonial settlement to the post apartheid revision of the past In a field marked by controversy this volume is more fully representative than any existing account of South Africa's literary history It will make a unique contribution to Commonwealth international and postcolonial studies and serve as a definitive reference work for decades to come

Trauma and Literature J. Roger Kurtz, 2018-03-15 As a concept trauma has attracted a great deal of interest in literary studies A key term in psychoanalytic approaches to literary study trauma theory represents a critical approach that enables new modes of reading and of listening It is a leading concept of our time applicable to individuals cultures and nations This book traces how trauma theory has come to constitute a discrete but influential approach within literary criticism in recent decades It offers an overview of the genesis and growth of literary trauma theory recording the evolution of the concept of trauma in relation to literary studies In twenty one essays covering the origins development and applications of trauma in literary studies Trauma and Literature addresses the relevance and impact this concept has in the field
