Comparative and Global Framing of Enslavement Stephan Conermann,Youval Rotman,Ehud R. Toledano,Rachel Zelnick-Abramovitz,2023-09-05 The study of enslavement has become urgent over the last two decades Social scientists legal scholars human rights activists and historians who study forms of enslavement in both modern and historical societies have sought and often achieved common conceptual grounds thus forging a new perspective that comprises historical and contemporary forms of slavery What could certainly be termed a turn in the study of slavery has also intensified awareness of enslavement as a global phenomenon inviting a comparative trans regional approach across time space divides Though different aspects of enslavement in different societies and eras are discussed each of the volume s three parts contributes to and has benefitted from a global perspective of enslavement The chapters in Part One propose to structure the global examination of the theoretical ideological and methodological aspects of the global local and glocal Part Two Regional and Trans regional Perspectives of the Global presents through analyses of historical case studies the link between connectivity and mobility as a fundamental aspect of the globalization of enslavement Finally Part Three deals with personal points of view regarding the global local and glocal Grosso modo the contributors do not only present their case studies but attempt to demonstrate what insights and added value explanations they gain from positioning their work vis vis a broader big picture Arcadia National Park (N.P.),

Blue Economy and Ocean Sustainable Development in a Globalised World: Social, Political, Economic and Environmental Issues Ibukun J. Adewumi,Andrei Polejack,Joanna Vince,Maree E. Fudge,2023-12-05 In the last decade the concept of a Blue Economy has ignited a deep theoretical debate Ranging from the integration of the triple bottom line of sustainability to the optimization of profit from ocean exploitation the meaning of the term blue economy differs considerably between epistemic communities and even more so among national and regional policies There is a general sense of the opportunity to realise enhanced social and economic benefits from the sustainable utilisation of their ocean and coastal resources under the umbrella framework of blue economy Blue economy is gaining traction already as a significant component of national policies even in spite of a clear conceptualization of the term Many countries are now preparing national policies towards realising their blue economy ambitions utilizing the concept as they see fit Likewise multilateral and regional organisations are developing guidelines and providing investment in new research technologies and financing tools that promote blue economy Critical challenges abound in particular in less privileged countries These include the gap in research capabilities governments prioritizing social wellbeing and economic profit in contrast to environmental protection the identification of new and emerging areas of ocean economic activity that are both socially and ecologically sustainable and holds viable business models that can attract private investment

Making the Immigrant Soldier Cristina-Ioana Dragomir, 2023-04-18 Immigrants to the United States have long used the armed forces as a shortcut to citizenship Cristina Ioana Dragomir profiles Lily Alexa and Vikrant three immigrants of varying nationalities and backgrounds who chose military service as their way of becoming American citizens Privileging the trio's own words and experiences Dragomir crafts a human focused narrative that moves from their lives in their home countries and decisions to join the military to their fraught naturalization processes within the service Dragomir illuminates how race ethnicity class and gender impacted their transformation from immigrant to soldier veteran and American She explores how these factors both eased their journeys and created obstacles that complicated their access to healthcare education economic resources and other forms of social justice A compelling union of analysis and rich storytelling Making the Immigrant Soldier traces the complexities of serving in the military in order to pursue the American dream

Quad Plus and Indo-Pacific Jagannath P. Panda, Ernest Gunasekara-Rockwell, 2021-12-28 This book explores how the Quad Plus mechanism is set to reshape the global multilateral economic and security co operations between Quad partner countries and the rest of the world With the Quad partners Australia India Japan and the United States seeing deteriorating ties with China the book provides a holistic understanding of the reasons why Quad Plus matters and what it means for the post COVID Indo Pacific and Asian order It goes beyond the existing literature of the global Post COVID reality and examines how Quad Plus can grow and find synergy with national and multilateral Indo Pacific initiatives The chapters analyze the mechanism's uncharacteristic yet active approach of including countries like South Korea Israel Brazil New Zealand and ASEAN Vietnam for their successful handling of the pandemic crisis thereby reshaping the new world's geopolitical vision. A unique study focused solely on the intricacies and the broader dialogue of the Quad Plus narrative, the book caters to strategic audiences as well as academics researching International Relations, Politics and Indo-Pacific and Asian Studies.

The Military Balance 2023 The International Institute for Strategic Studies (IISS), 2023-02-15. The Military Balance has been published annually since 1959. The 2023 edition provides an open source assessment of the armed forces and equipment inventories of 173 countries with accompanying defence economics data. Alongside detailed country data, The Military Balance assesses important military issues region by region and includes graphics to illustrate these as well as noteworthy equipment developments. Maps this year include a focus on Russia's full-scale invasion of Ukraine and select China-Russia military cooperation activities. The book draws on the range of data carried in the Military Balance online database, particularly the procurement features in each regional section. The accompanying wallchart explores the military use of outer space, an increasingly important element of defence capabilities, focusing on China, Russia and the United States. For those involved in defence and security policymaking, analysis and research, The Military Balance is an indispensable source.

Macro cognition: The Science and Engineering of Sociotechnical Work Systems Paul Ward, Robert R. Hoffman, Gareth E. Conway, Jan Maarten Schraagen, David Peebles, Robert J. B. Hutton, Erich J. Petushek, 2018-02-28. The increasing complexity of work systems and changes in the nature of workplace technology over the past century have resulted in an exponential shift in the nature of work activities from physical labor to cognitive work. Modern work systems have many characteristics that make them cognitively complex. They can be highly interactive, comprised of multiple agents and artifacts, information may be limited and distributed across space and time, task goals are frequently ill-defined, conflicting, dynamic and emergent, planning may only be possible at general levels of abstraction or require adaptive solutions, some degree of proficiency or expertise is required, the stakes are often high and uncertainty, time constraints and stress are seldom absent. To complicate matters further, cognition in complex work settings is typically constrained by broader professional, organizational and institutional practice and policy. These features of cognitive work present significant challenges to scientific methodology and theory and subsequent design of reliable interventions. Historically, philosophers and scientists have attempted to understand the mental activities experienced during cognitive work at multiple levels of analysis using divergent methods. Some have examined cognition at an associative, contextual, functional or holistic level, relying on naturalistic methods to understand the higher mental processes as they work in harmony during goal-directed behavior. Others have embraced experimental methods and favored internal over external validity, often reducing cognition to a psychology of fundamental acts such as short-term memory access with millisecond shifts in attention. More recently, Macro cognition has evolved as a complementary paradigm. Macro cognitive researchers have studied the cognitive functions and processes associated with skilled, adaptive, collaborative and resilient cognitive work in the context of the aforementioned complexities of psychotechnical and sociotechnical work systems Typically this research has been carried out using cognitive task analytic techniques that draw on both naturalistic and quasi experimental methods The primary goals of research in Macrocognition are to better understand cognitive adaptations to complexity to increase our theoretical understanding of the organism environment relations by studying the mapping between cognitive work and real world demands and to promote use inspired research capable of improving system performance
