GREENWALD, 2015-01-01 Pauline Frederick Reporting is the biography of the life and career of the first woman to become a network news correspondent After no less an authority than Edward R Murrow told her there was no place for her in broadcasting Pauline Frederick 1908 90 cracked the good old boys club through determination and years of hard work eventually becoming a trusted voice to millions of television viewers During Frederick's nearly fifty years as a journalist she interviewed a young Fidel Castro covered the Nuremberg trials interpreted diplomatic actions at the United Nations and was the first woman to moderate a presidential debate The life of this pivotal figure in American journalism provides an inside perspective on the growth and political maneuverings of television networks as well as Frederick's relationships with iconic NBC broadcast figures David Brinkley Chet Huntley and others Although Frederick repeatedly insisted that she would trade her career glamorous as it was to have a family a series of romances ended in heartache when she did indeed choose her work over love At the age of sixty one however she married and attained the family life she had always wanted Her story is one for all modern women striving to balance career and American Representations of Post-Communism Andaluna Borcila, 2014-07-11 With the televised events of 1989 territories of Eastern and Central Europe that had been marked as impenetrable and inaccessible to the Western gaze exploded into visibility As the narratives of the Cold War crumbled new narratives emerged and new geographies were produced on and by American television Using an understudied archive of American news broadcasts and tracing their flashes and echoes through travel guides and narratives of return written by Eastern European Americans this book explores American ways of seeing and mapping communism s disintegration and the narratives articulated around post communist sites and subjects Watching TV Harry Castleman, Walter J. Podrazik, 2024-12-16 Castleman and Podrazik present a season by season narrative that encompasses the eras of American television from the beginning in broadcast through cable and now streaming They deftly navigate the dizzying array of contemporary choices so that no matter where you start on the media timeline Watching TV provides the context and background to this multi billion dollar enterprise Drawing on decades of research the authors weave together personalities popular shows corporate strategies historical events and changing technologies enhancing the main commentary with additional elements that include fall prime time schedule grids for every season date box timelines highlighted key text and selected photos Full of facts firsts insights and exploits from now back to the earliest days Watching TV is the standard chronology of American television and reading it is akin to channel surfing through history The fourth edition updates the story into the 2020s and looks ahead to the next waves of change This new edition is the first to also be available in a digital format Encyclopedia of Television Horace Newcomb, 2014-02-03 The Encyclopedia of Television second edition is the first major reference work to provide description history analysis and information on more than 1100 subjects related to television in its international context For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Encyclo pedia of Television 2nd edition website Reporting Disasters Suzanne Franks, 2014-03-01 The media reporting of the Ethiopian Famine in 1984 5 was an iconic news event It is widely believed to have had an unprecedented impact challenging perceptions of Africa and mobilising public opinion and philanthropic action in a dramatic new way The contemporary international configuration of aid media pressure and official policy is still directly affected and sometimes distorted by what was as this narrative shows also an inaccurate and misleading story In popular memory the reporting of Ethiopia and the resulting humanitarian intervention were a great success Yet alternative interpretations give a radically different picture of misleading journalism and an aid effort which did more harm than good Using privileged access to BBC and Government archives Reporting Disasters examines and reveals the internal factors which drove BBC news and offers a rare case study of how the media can affect public opinion and policymaking It constructs the process that accounts for the immensity of the news event following the response at the heart of government to the pressure of public opinion And it shows that while the reporting and the altruistic festival that it produced triggered remarkable and identifiable changes the on going impact was not what the conventional account claims it to have been The 1970s and the Making of the Modern US-Mexico Border Aaron Brown, 2024-07-08 During the late twentieth century many Americans expressed concern about the security surrounding the U S Mexico border due to the lack of progress in achieving meaningful and effective immigration regulation and an inability to control growing drug trafficking Despite publicly and privately striving for cooperation on these issues Mexican and American policymakers struggled to arrive at viable and sustainable solutions In The 1970s and the Making of the Modern US Mexico Border Fortifying a Frontier Aaron Brown analyzes US drug and immigration policies from the 1960s to 1980s how they applied to Mexico and the border and how this shaped modern U S perceptions of border security Brown utilizes archival research newspapers and other sources to investigate how US policymakers border residents and activists shaped policies aimed at eliminating rising crime economic stagnation and global insecurity At a time when the US Mexico border is again the subject of heated political debate this book can help readers understand the origins of the current crisis Obama, the Media, and Framing the U.S. Exit from Iraq and Afghanistan Erika G. King, 2016-05-23 Situating Obama s end of war discourse in the historical context of the 2001 terrorist attacks Obama the Media and Framing the U S Exit from Iraq and Afghanistan begins with a detailed comparison with the Bush war on terror security narrative before examining elements of continuity and change in post 9 11 elite rhetoric Erika King deftly employs two case studies of presidential and media framing the weeks surrounding the formal announcements of Obama's December 2009 surge then exit strategy from Afghanistan and the end of combat operations in Irag in August 2010 to explore the role of mass media in presenting presidential narratives of war and finds evidence of an interpretive disconnect between the media and a president seeking to present a more nuanced approach to keeping America safe Eloquently scrutinizing Obama's discourse on the U S exit from two post 9 11 wars and contrasting the presidential endgame frame with the U S mainstream media s narratives of the wars meaning accomplishments and denouement provides a unique combination of qualitative content analysis and topical case studies and makes this volume an ideal resource for scholars and researchers grappling with the complicated and ever evolving nexus of war the president and the media Fault Lines Jeffery Mondak, Dona-Gene Mitchell, 2008-10-01 In some years elections bring about enduring changes to the American political scene In 2006 a pivotal election year the Republicans suffered a resounding defeat losing the House and Senate for the first time since the 1994 Republican Revolution But what caused this pivotal shift Fault Lines provides both a wealth of insight regarding what happened in the 2006 congressional elections and a framework to aid in understanding the possible significance of the 2006 outcome for subsequent developments in American politics Contributors to Fault Lines who all draw on the data from the 2006 Congressional Elections Study include many of the nation s most prominent and accomplished observers of Congress and congressional elections This book promises to be an influential contribution to our understanding of Congress congressional elections the Bush administration media and politics political communication and partisan Kiplinger's Personal Finance, 1989-12 The most trustworthy source of information available today on savings polarization and investments taxes money management home ownership and many other personal finance topics Sujata Moorti, 2012-02-01 Honorable Mention 2003 Myers Outstanding Book Award presented by The Gustavus Myers Center for the Study of Bigotry and Human Rights in North America Through an analysis of television images of rape this book makes important contributions to theories of the public sphere as well as feminist theories of rape It shows how issues pertaining to race and gender are integrated in television discussions of rape and how ideas of race stereotypes of black male and female sexuality and the perceived threat of miscegenation continue to shape contemporary attitudes toward sexual New York Magazine ,1990-06-25 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and guickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea California. Supreme Court. Records and Briefs California (State)., Court of Appeal Case s A051250 Number of Exhibits 1 Federal Communications Commission Reports United States. Federal Communications Commission, 1978 New York Magazine, 1987-03-16 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine's consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea Science on American Television Marcel Chotkowski, 2024-05-31 As television emerged as a major cultural and economic force many imagined that the medium would enhance civic education for topics like science And indeed television soon offered a breathtaking banquet of scientific images and ideas both factual and fictional Mr Wizard performed experiments with milk bottles Viewers watched live coverage of solar eclipses and atomic bomb blasts Television cameras followed astronauts to the moon Carl Sagan through the Cosmos and Jane Goodall into the jungle Via electrons and embryos blood testing and blasting caps fictional Frankensteins and chatty Nobel laureates television opened windows onto the world of science But what promised to be a wonderful way of presenting science to huge audiences turned out to be a disappointment argues historian Marcel Chotkowski LaFollette in Science on American Television LaFollette narrates the history of science on television from the 1940s to the turn of the twenty first century to demonstrate how disagreements between scientists and television executives inhibited the medium's potential to engage in meaningful science education In addition to examining the content of shows she also explores audience and advertiser responses the role of news in engaging the public in science and the making of scientific celebrities Lively and provocative

Science on American Television establishes a new approach to grappling with the popularization of science in the television age when the medium s ubiquity and influence shaped how science was presented and the scientific community had increasingly less control over what appeared on the air
