Teaching Learners with Visual Impairment Maximus M. Sefotho, Ronél Ferreira, 2020-12-31 This book Teaching Learners with Visual Impairment focuses on holistic support to learners with visual impairment in and beyond the classroom and school context Special attention is given to classroom practice learning support curriculum differentiation and assessment practices to mention but a few areas of focus covered in the book In this manner this book makes a significant contribution to the existing body of knowledge on the implementation of inclusive education policy with learners affected by visual impairment Resources in Education, 2001-04 Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert

Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience Research in Education, 1974 Primary Education-Popular Educator, 1928

Moderator-topics, 1922 School Arts Magazine, 1924 School Education, 1894 Primary Education, 1919

The Texas Outlook, 1928 Child Rights and International Discrimination Law Marit Skivenes, Karl Søvig, 2019-02-22

Societies and states are at a crossroad in how children are treated and how their rights are respected and protected Children's new position and their strong rights create tensions and challenge the traditional relationships between family and the state The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child was adopted unanimously by the General Assembly of the United Nations in 1989 and came into force in 1990 Article 2 places states under an obligation to accord primacy to the best interests of the child in all actions concerning children and to ensure and regulate child protection This book offers a comparative and critical analysis of the implementation of Article 2 of the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child In order to examine how Article 2 is being implemented it is essential to have a sound understanding of the obligations it imposes The opening chapters will explore the precise content of these obligations in terms of the legislative history of the text its underlying philosophy its amplification by the United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child and subsequent authoritative interpretations of it by courts around the world The book will then drill down into the conceptual and theoretical challenges posed by the very nature of the obligations and will offer in depth exploration of the long running rights v welfare debate that has always presented something of a challenge in giving effect to children's rights Contributors are leading academics in the children's rights field drawn from a wide range of countries and jurisdictions worldwide including those with common law civilian and mixed traditions Disciplines represented in the book include law psychology political science childhood studies social work and anthropology By drawing together the various facets of Article 2 and analysing it from a range of perspectives the volume provides a coherent and comprehensive inter disciplinary analysis on discrimination and the rights of the child
