Connecting Visual Literacy to Theory Ricardo Lopez-Leon, Dana Statton Thompson, 2024-07-12 This volume seeks to close the gap between education systems across the world that remain systematically devoted to understanding our world through text rather than images Through an exploration of the contributions of well and lesser known visual thinkers from across disciplines and geographies the contributors offer contemporary appraisals and modern re conceptualizations of the subject The book illuminates how experts from various disciplines ranging from art communication education and philosophy laid the foundations for what we know today as visual literacy These foundations and innovative ways of thinking and understanding images have been disruptive but until now have been relatively understudied As such the chapters examine the context of individual thinkers expanding upon famous theories and providing new insight into why these visual and cognitive processes are imperative to learning and education and to disciplines spanning art history museum studies philosophy photography and more The authors all members of the International Visual Literacy Association IVLA are committed to advancing the study of visual literacy by raising new questions and proposing new routes of inquiry A unique and timely exploration of the way we derive meaning from what we see and how we interact with our visual environment it will appeal to researchers scholars and educators from a range of interdisciplinary backgrounds across art art education art history design information science photography and visual communication

Assessing Academic Literacy in a Multilingual Society Albert Weideman, John Read, Theo du Plessis, 2020-11-02 South African universities face major challenges in meeting the needs of their students in the area of academic language and literacy The dominant medium of instruction in the universities is English and to a much lesser extent Afrikaans but only a minority of the national population are native speakers of these languages Nine other languages can be media of instruction in schools which makes the transition to tertiary education difficult enough in itself for students from these schools The focus of this book is on procedures for assessing the academic language and literacy levels and needs of students not in order to exclude students from higher education but rather to identify those who would benefit from further development of their ability in order to undertake their degree studies successfully The volume also aims to bring the innovative solutions designed by South African educators to a wider international audience

Visual Literacy Mark Newman, Donna Ogle, 2019-10-31 Visual Literacy examines how teachers can use visuals to improve learning for all students It provides teachers with a foundation in visual literacy defined as the ability to read think and communicate with visually presented information Results of studies of students using visual information indicate that most students are clearly lacking in the tools needed to use visuals effectively The book orients teachers to visual literacy and the world of visuals It discusses various classroom tested strategies and activities for all students including second language learners and students with special needs Stressing visual literacy skills helps students understand a visual more deeply so they can master the content they are learning Teachers will learn to employ a literacy triad of reading thinking and communicating to aid students in their study of visuals First they inquire into the visual reading it for content and context including assessing the authenticity of the document Second they think about the document by analyzing interpreting and evaluating it to come up with answers to their inquiry Graphic organizers help students decipher the content and understand the meaning of the visual document connecting it to prior and future instruction Third they communicate their findings using visuals Audio-visual Language Journal ,1979
