The Economic Journal , 1907 Contains papers that appeal to a broad and global readership in all fields of economics

Study of Agricultural and Economic Problems of the Cotton Belt United States. Congress. House. Committee on Agriculture, 1947 Monthly Catalogue, United States Public Documents , 1970 Economic World , 1923 World Bank East Asia and Pacific Economic Update April 2016 World Bank, 2016-04-11 In the past 6 months developing East Asia and Pacific has faced a challenging external environment but growth has generally remained resilient Over the next 3 years growth is expected to ease modestly China will continue its gradual shift to a more sustainable growth path Some economies will be affected by low commodity prices and weaker external demand This outlook is subject to elevated risks Countries should prioritize monetary and fiscal policies that reduce their exposure to risks and strengthen market confidence In China there is a need to reduce leverage In several countries action is required to enhance transparency strengthen accountability and redefine the role of the state Efforts to reduce barriers to trade should be redoubled with a particular focus on non tariff measures and regulatory barriers including to trade in services The region must increase its readiness to benefit from the digital revolution and in particular develop the essential analog complements to digital technologies 1997 Economic Census: Materials summary , 2002 Weekly Letters - Harvard Economic Society Harvard Economic Society, inc,1925 Environment and Development Economics Scott Barrett,Scott Barrett (Professor of natural resource economics),Karl-Göran Mäler,Partha Dasgupta,Eric Maskin,2014-04 This book honours Partha Dasgupta and the field he helped establish environment and development economics It concerns the relationship between social systems and natural systems Above all it concerns the poverty environment nexus the complex pathways by which people become or remain poor and resources become or remain overexploited Resources in Education ,1998 The Greater Middle East in Global Politics Mehdi Parvizi Amineh,2007 This anthology unites in one volume two studies of the Greater Middle East in global politics each conceptual and empirical First it is a historical comparative study of politics and societies in selected Greater Middle Eastern countries Second it is an empirical case study of states and societies of the Greater Middle East in global politics Introduction to Intercultural Economics Rongxing Guo,2012-04-23 This book presents a methodological framework for the analysis of intercultural issues frequently misinterpreted by existing theories It uses a challenge and response theory of cultural development to examine the relationship between different natural disasters and threats and the developments of ancient civilizations The spatial interaction of ancient civilizations is assessed and four non linear patterns of intercultural dynamics are presented Our empirical analyses of the four major ancient civilizations the Mesopotamian the Egyptian the Indus and the Chinese focus on intercultural influences as well as how they have shaped the spatial dynamics of the world as a whole This book also examines various aspects of intercultural economic influences such as those of culture on international trade Evidence from a broad panel of nations supports the presumption that high income trade partners will be less sensitive to the measures of cultural dissimilarity than low income trade partners between which cultural dissimilarity leads to barriers to international trade The treatment of linguistic and religious factors as continuous variables in this book has improved past studies in which language was treated as one or more dummy variables and religion was ignored Big Data for Twenty-First-Century Economic Statistics Katharine G. Abraham,Ron S. Jarmin,Brian C. Moyer,Matthew D. Shapiro,2022-03-11 The papers in this volume analyze the deployment of Big Data to solve both existing and novel challenges in economic measurement The existing infrastructure for the production of key economic statistics relies heavily on data collected through sample surveys and periodic censuses together with administrative records generated in connection with tax administration The increasing difficulty of obtaining survey and census responses threatens the viability of existing data collection approaches The growing availability of new sources of Big Data such as scanner data on purchases credit card transaction records payroll information and prices of various goods scraped from the websites of online sellers has changed the data landscape These new sources of data hold the promise of allowing the statistical agencies to produce more accurate more disaggregated and more timely economic data to meet the needs of policymakers and other data users This volume documents progress made toward that goal and the challenges to be overcome to realize the full potential of Big Data in the production of economic statistics It describes the deployment of Big Data to solve both existing and novel challenges in economic measurement and it will be of interest to statistical agency staff academic researchers and serious users of economic statistics The Polish Economic Bulletin ,1921 Beyond the Bubble Test Linda Darling-Hammond, Frank Adamson, 2014-05-14 Performance assessment is a hot topic in school systems and educators continue to analyze its costs benefits and feasibility as a replacement for high stakes testing Until now researchers and policymakers have had to dig to find out what we know and what we still have to learn about performance assessment Beyond the Bubble Test How Performance Assessments Support 21st Century Learning synthesizes the latest findings in the field and not a moment too soon Statistics indicate that the United States is in danger of falling behind if it fails to adapt to our changing world The memory and recall strategies of traditional testing are no longer adequate to equip our students with the skills they need to excel in the global economy Instead teachers need to engage students in deeper learning assessing their ability to use higher order skills Skills like synthesizing information understanding evidence and critical problem solving are not achieved when we teach to multiple choice exams Examples in Beyond the Bubble Test paint a useful picture of how schools can begin to supplement traditional tests with something that works better This book provides new perspectives on current performance assessment research plus an incisive look at what's possible at the local and state levels Linda Darling Hammond with a team of leading scholars bring together lessons learned new directions and solid recommendations into a single readily accessible compendium Beyond the Bubble Test situates the current debate on performance assessment within the context of testing in the United States This comprehensive resource also looks beyond our U S borders to Singapore Hong Kong and other places whose reform mindedness can serve as an example to us Handbook of the Economics of Education Eric A. Hanushek, Stephen J. Machin, Ludger Woessmann, 2016-04-27 The volume of research into the economics of education has grown rapidly in recent years In this comprehensive new Handbook editors Eric Hanushek Stephen Machin and Ludger Woessmann assemble original contributions from leading researchers addressing contemporary advances in the field Each chapter illuminates major methodological and theoretical developments and directs the reader to productive new lines of research As a result these concise overviews of the existing literature offer an essential jumpstart for both students and researchers alike Demonstrates how new methodologies are yielding fresh perspectives in education economics Uses rich data to study issues of high contemporary policy relevance Explores innovations in higher education competition and the uses of technology Statutes and Ordinances of the University of Cambridge 2004 University of Cambridge, 2004-09-30 This is the latest updated edition of the University of Cambridge's official statutes and Ordinances Economic and Financial Crime Monica Violeta Achim, Sorin Nicolae Borlea, 2020-08-29 This book deals with the widespread economic and financial crime issues of corruption the shadow economy and money laundering It investigates both the theoretical and practical aspects of these crimes identifying their effects on economic social and political life This book presents these causes and effects with a state of the art review and with recent empirical research It compares the international and transnational aspects of these economic and financial crimes through discussion and critical analysis This volume will be of interest to researchers and policy makers working to study and prevent economic and financial crime white collar crime and organized crime
