Paper Volunteer Work:

Volunteer Work, Informal Learning and Social Action Fiona Duguid, Karsten Mündel, Daniel Schugurensky, 2013-06-12
Since most research on work focuses on paid work and most literature on education concentrates on schools it is not surprising that studies on the relations between work and learning emphasize the relations between paid employment and organized education This unique book deals with an area that has been rarely covered in the literature on work and education the connections between volunteer work and informal learning Through a variety of examples ranging from the Red Cross to teacher labourers from cooperatives to social housing and from participatory democracy to environmental social movements this volume examines the learning dimension of volunteer work in different contexts It also considers the special case of volunteerism among recent immigrants The case studies analyze three basic types of voluntary organizations those providing social services representing local communities and mobilizing for social change The chapters include profiles of the actual work their members do and detailed accounts of the learning practices they are engaged in during their work and the impact of such learning on their personal and professional development The concluding chapter offers a comparative analysis practical recommendations and steps for further research Paper Trails Sarah B. Classic Papers in Geriatric Medicine with Current Commentaries Robert J. Pignolo, Monica Crane, Mary Ann Forciea, 2010-04-28 The field of geriatrics foundations is rooted in the classic papers of early descriptions of aging and age related diseases In Classic Papers in Geriatric Medicine with Current Commentaries the authors chose the classic papers providing a combination of expert opinion and objective assessment The 15 areas in this volume represent the beginnings of practice and thoughts about the best ways to care for older patients Each paper is introduced by a commentary describing the singular contributions of the chosen paper with a short list of other important early papers in that area and in many cases reflect on progress in that particular field The commentaries are personal statements by the authors about the influence of the papers chosen not meant to be exhaustive reviews of the clinical area in question Classic Papers in Geriatric Medicine with Current Commentaries exemplifies the importance of a paper and its ability to retain its impact over time While many of the classic papers in this collection have stood the test of time others have gained classic status by virtue of their profound influence in relatively quick measure or because of timeliness in filling a void in knowledge

Sabrina M ller s attention Such theology focuses not on the traditional forms of church alone nor is there a return to parochial core church structures Rather religious social media phenomena are also the subject of this study For in such digital places lived theologies emerge at a rapid pace and new leadership structures are formed M ller thus expands the concept of the common priesthood to include an essential new aspect and advocates that ordained and non ordained persons meet on a theological level With its strong emphasis on empowerment the book is not only based on traditional discussions from church theory and pastoral theology but also implicitly leans on feminist conceptions and topics from liberation theology
