

A Glimpse into My Personal Philosophy of Life

Life is how we go about day by day, month by month, year by year. Our actions, even the slightest, can twist and turn our paths like a labyrinth. Life is quite unpredictable, though it is what we make of it. Whatever happens in life happens for a reason, be it the good or the bad.

My family and my friends are the ones I value highly. School is very important to me, but sometimes it keeps me so preoccupied that my life outside of school slips my mind. I tend to overwork myself, and too much stress is not ideal. I encounter dead ends in my life, but I manage to get back on the right path. More often than not, I have mulled over past events and considered the current place I'm at in my life, viewing everything in a harsh light. If I were asked to describe my life in just one word, I would say that it's a rut. I admit to comparing my life to the lives of others, but this feeling of envy is destructive. Each and every life has a story, but we might not realize that what we take note of is only a certain chapter of that story. What people usually share is the best aspects of their lives, the ones where they look good. Because who would readily open up about their struggles? The "perfect life" is just a myth. The point is that one must own their life and find aspects to take for granted.

I believe that experience is everything. What we see, what we learn, what we do shapes us all. The lives we live we should make the best out of—"Live today as if it was your last." The very experiences we give rise to are all crucial to our memories, which we hold onto for the rest of our lives. We should do whatever makes us happy, provide a helping hand in our community, and aim to make a difference even if we think of any small, unassuming action.
