Crime Gun Trace Reports ,2000      "We are Not the Enemy" Amardeep Singh,2002 Describes post September 11 violence directed against Arabs and Muslims in the United States and local state and federal government responses      Task Force Report United States. President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice,1967      Desert Visions and the Making of Phoenix, 1860-2009 Philip VanderMeer,2010-12-16 Whether touted for its burgeoning economy affordable housing and pleasant living style or criticized for being less like a city than a sprawling suburb Phoenix by all environmental logic should not exist Yet despite its extremely hot and dry climate and its remoteness Phoenix has grown into a massive metropolitan area This exhaustive study examines the history of how Phoenix came into being and how it has sustained itself from its origins in the 1860s to its present status as the nation's fifth largest city From the beginning Phoenix sought to grow and although growth has remained central to the city's history its importance meaning and value have changed substantially over the years The initial vision of Phoenix as an American Eden gave way to the Cold War Era vision of a High Tech Suburbia which in turn gave way to rising concerns in the late twentieth century about the environmental social and political costs of growth To understand how such unusual growth occurred in such an improbable location Philip VanderMeer explores five major themes the natural environment urban infrastructure economic development social and cultural values and public leadership Through investigating Phoenix's struggle to become a major American metropolis his study also offers a unique view of what it means to be a desert city      Crime in Arizona ,1982      Under the Rule of Thumb United States Commission on Civil Rights,1982      A Compendium of Selected Criminal Justice Projects United States. Law Enforcement Assistance Administration,1975      Modernizing Crime Statistics: Report 2 National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on Law and Justice, Committee on National Statistics, Panel on Modernizing the Nation's Crime Statistics,2018-05-23 To derive statistics about crime to estimate its levels and trends assess its costs to and impacts on society and inform law enforcement approaches to prevent it a conceptual framework for defining and thinking about crime is virtually a prerequisite Developing and maintaining such a framework is no easy task because the mechanics of crime are ever evolving and shifting tied to shifts and development in technology society and legislation Interest in understanding crime surged in the 1920s which proved to be a pivotal decade for the collection of nationwide crime statistics Now established as a permanent agency the Census Bureau commissioned the drafting of a manual for preparing crime statistics intended for use by the police corrections departments and courts alike The new manual sought to solve a perennial problem by suggesting a standard taxonomy of crime Shortly after the Census Bureau issued its manual the International Association of Chiefs of Police in convention adopted a resolution to create a Committee on Uniform Crime Records to begin the process of describing what a national system of data on crimes known to the police might look like Report 1 performed a comprehensive reassessment of what is meant by crime in U S crime statistics and recommends a new classification of crime to organize measurement efforts This second report examines methodological and implementation issues and presents a conceptual blueprint for modernizing crime statistics     Directory of Automated Criminal Justice Information Systems ,1986     Policing Gangs in America Charles M. Katz,Vincent J. Webb,2006-01-09 Policing Gangs in America describes the assumptions issues problems and events that characterize shape and define the police response to gangs in America today The focus of this 2006 book is on the gang unit officers themselves and the environment in which they work A discussion of research statistical facts theory and policy with regard to gangs gang members and gang activity is used as a backdrop The book is broadly focused on describing how gang units respond to community gang problems and answers such questions as why do police agencies organize their responses to gangs in certain ways Who are the people who elect to police gangs How do they make sense of gang members individuals who spark fear in most citizens What are their jobs really like What characterizes their working environment How do their responses to the gang problem fit with other policing strategies such as community policing

Committee on Appropriations,1974     Project Reports of the National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice ,1971     Community Policing Today Deborah A. Parsons,Janine Kremling,2020-09-20 Written by an author team with experience in law enforcement and in the classroom Community Policing Today explores the strategies police and communities can use to find long term solutions to the public safety issues facing today s communities including gangs high crime and disproportionate minority contact Framing community policing not as a program but as a transformation from traditional policing that involves sweeping changes in the way police view their role and relationships with the community the authors demonstrate how law enforcement officers can partner with the community to help facilitate problem solving of public safety issues With an emphasis on cutting edge trends and impacts on community policing this book offers students a better understanding of the complexity and promise of community policing today Included with this title The password protected Instructor Resource Site formally known as SAGE Edge offers access to all text specific resources including a test bank and editable chapter specific PowerPoint slides     Trying to Make It Rajeev V. Gundur,2022-08-15 Trying to Make It is R V Gundur s journey from the US Mexico border to America s heartland from America s prisons to its streets in search of the true story of the drug trade and the people who participate in it The book begins in the Paso del Norte area encompassing the sister cities of Ciudad Ju rez and El Paso which has been in the public eye as calls for securing the border persist From there it moves on to Phoenix which was infamously associated with the drug trade through a series of kidnappings Finally the book goes on to Chicago which has been a lightning rod of criticism for its gangs and violence Gundur highlights the similarities and differences that exist in the American drug trade within the three sites and how they relate to current drug trade narratives in the US At each stop the reader is transported to the city s historical and contemporary contexts of the drug trade and introduced to the individuals who have lived them Drug retailers street and prison gang members wholesalers and the law enforcement personnel who try to stop them offer readers a comprehensive look at how various illicit enterprises work together to supply the drugs that American users demand Most importantly through a combination of macro and microlevel vantage points and comparative analysis of three key sites in illicit drug operations the stories in Trying to Make It remind us that the people involved in the drug trade for the most part do not deserve vilification Far from being a seemingly uniform widespread threat or an unlimited array of bogeymen and women they are ordinary people living ordinary lives just trying to make it      Congressional Record United States.
