The Few. The Proud. Sara Sheldon, 2007-11-30 On a dark night in February 2005 Sara Sheldon arrived at Camp Fallujah outside the dangerous ancient city for which it was named Armed only with a camera a laptop and notepads she was a spectator to the war who secured permission to embed with the 1st MEF and observe and interview Marines who happened to be women then posted at Camp Fallujah In the time she spent there Sheldon interviewed women who held ranks from corporal to colonel to gain a broad and varied perspective of the experiences representative of female Marines throughout Iraq She reveals much about her subjects the preconceived notions they possessed when they enlisted in the Corps how the experience of serving in Iraq changed them and what they ultimately took home from the battlefield Americans are aware that women are actively serving in the armed forces but few understand what exactly is expected of women in the military the duties they perform and the limitations and restrictions placed on them especially in a combat zone Sheldon reveals much about her subjects In some ways they mirrored their male counterparts Some enlisted only for four years to receive educational benefits or for an opportunity to escape their home environment Others made the Corps their career serving as commissioned officers Still others were recalled to active duty to serve with their representative Guard units Sheldon uncovers their stories the preconceived notions they possessed when they enlisted in the Corps how the experience of serving in Iraq has changed them and what they ultimately took home from the battlefield She also sheds light on the day to day grind all American service personnel face in Iraq Yet she never loses her main focus Far removed from the Green Zone Sheldon and her subjects spent their days in harm s way but she avoids a running commentary on policy Instead she remains committed to examining how women tasked with field duties and various missions at the lower levels of command are impacted by their experiences Eyes of the Nation Vincent Virga, Alan Brinkley, Library of Congress, 2004 A magnificent one volume pictorial and narrative history of the United States with more than five hundred exceptional illustrations many reproduced here for the first time The Disappearing God Gap? Corwin Smidt, Kevin den Dulk, Bryan Froehle, James Penning, Stephen Monsma, Douglas Koopman, 2010-02-08 After the reelection of George W Bush in 2004 the God Gap became a hotly debated political issue Religious voters were seen as the key to Bush s victory and Democrats began scrambling to reach out to them Four years later however with the economy in a tailspin on election day religion barely seemed to register on people s radar screens In this book a team of well regarded scholars digs deeper to examine the role religion played in the 2008 campaign They take a long view placing the election in historical context and looking at the campaign as a whole from the primaries through all the way through election day At the heart of their analysis is data gleaned from a national survey conducted by the authors in which voters were interviewed in the spring of 2008 and then re interviewed after the election
