American educational reform efforts has focused on campaigns to eliminate discrimination in public schools However as historian Guadalupe San Miguel demonstrates in Chicana o Struggles for Education Activism in the Community the story is much broader and more varied than that While activists certainly challenged discrimination they also worked for specific public school reforms and sought private schooling opportunities utilizing new patterns of contestation and advocacy In documenting and reviewing these additional strategies San Miguel s nuanced overview and analysis offers enhanced insight into the quest for equal educational opportunity to new generations of students San Miguel addresses questions such as what factors led to change in the 1960s and in later years who the individuals and organizations were that led the movements in this period and what motivated them to get involved and what strategies were pursued how they were chosen and how successful they were He argues that while Chicana o activists continued to challenge school segregation in the 1960s as earlier generations had they broadened their efforts to address new concerns such as school funding testing English only curricula the exclusion of undocumented immigrants and school closings They also advocated cultural pride and memory inclusion of the Mexican American community in school governance and opportunities to seek educational excellence in private religious nationalist and secular schools The profusion of strategies has not erased patterns of de facto segregation and unequal academic achievement San Miguel concludes but it has played a key role in expanding educational opportunities The actions he describes have expanded extended and diversified the historic struggle for Mexican American education

Iowa Alumni Magazine ,2011 Mobile-Mindful Teaching and Learning Christina Moore,2023-07-03 This book provides faculty and instructors with an introductory guide to integrating mobile learning in their courses Recognizing that a smartphone is the first and main piece of technology anyone owns with ownership exceeding 95% for those aged 18 29 with a sizable minority of these being smartphone dependent and that instructors are relying on technology for teaching and learning more than ever this book addresses the imperative that course materials and interactions be increasingly available through the technology that students use most often Dispelling the notion that mobile learning is for the tech savvy and adventurous mobile mindful teaching offers teachers a way to take a few steps at a time share options with students and progressively develop ideas and practices The book invites you to explore your own way into mobile learning Christina Moore stresses two principles as you engage with mobile learning intention and fluidity This begins with mindfully implementing mobile learning opportunities so that students see the usefulness of learning via phone and recognizing the fluid learning environments in which students learn so you can offer online modalities and functions appropriate to purpose and situations The book opens with a start with self section on How to Be a Mobile Mindful Learner offering ideas on exploring the almost infinite available online resources in your discipline to curate a rich and ever expanding compilation of ideas for use in your scholarly work and teaching and identifying different types of learning digital reading audio and visual learning and social learning across multiple devices and contexts to consider as you develop your course The section Toward Mobile Mindful Teaching explores ways to add mobile options to existing learning materials and how they and the LMS functions you use are rendered on a phone by taking a mobile test drive through your course Christina Moore shows how by building up your mobile learning skills to be a more productive scholar and developing habits that feed your curiosity and creativity you can start planning how you can create fluid learning opportunities for your students they can access across devices time and space and take advantage of found moments of time and informal spaces Linking Theory to Practice - Case Studies for Working with College Students Frances K.
