

Photosynthesis

The equation for photosynthesis is $6\text{CO}_2 + 6\text{H}_2\text{O} \rightarrow \text{C}_6\text{H}_{12}\text{O}_6 + 6\text{O}_2$

Photosynthesis is the process where plants transform light energy into chemical energy. Plants use this energy to make their own food. The light energy they captured is used to convert carbon dioxide, water and minerals into oxygen.

Chlorophyll —> The pigment that gives the plants their green colour and helps in the process of photosynthesis by absorbing the light.

Chloroplasts —> The plant cell structure where photosynthesis occurs. They are found in the palisade cells in the leaves.

Xylem —> The plant vascular tissue that moves water and dissolved minerals upwards towards the rest of the plant and also provides physical support. The water-conducting function is essential for photosynthesis.

The photosynthesis process

- Plants take in water and carbon dioxide and use energy from the sun to turn them into food.
- Within the plant cell, water is oxidised, loses electrons and is changed into oxygen. Carbon dioxide is reduced, gains electrons and turns into glucose.
- Oxygen is released, and glucose is stored within the plant as energy.

Photosynthesis is an endothermic reaction. This means it cannot occur without energy (from the Sun).

To perform photosynthesis you must have a source of light, water and CO_2

Fun fact:

There are organisms other than plants that can go through photosynthesis. These include algae and the emerald green sea slug.
