Decaf coffee can be made when it is requested of the guest. Assign a server to make the coffee as needed. That server should use a dry erase marker and write on the coffee pot the time the coffee was made. Fresh coffee last only 1 hour.
<input type="checkbox"/> If you slice lemons – place the sliced lemons into a storage food container and place the date dot on it. Shelf life for sliced lemons is 1 day.
<input type="checkbox"/> Use an ice bath with a small metal container for sliced lemons. Place a 1 day date dot on the container and store that container either in the cold station or directly on the counter top.
<input type="checkbox"/> Set up a sanitation bucket with several clean towels in the bucket. Sanitation water should be warm water. Sanitation parts per million should be around 220 PPM.
<input type="checkbox"/> Are all counter tops cleaned and sanitized?
<input type="checkbox"/> Roll any silverware prior to opening the restaurant.
<input type="checkbox"/> Complete any cleaning assignments the manager assigned to you.
<input type="checkbox"/> Complete any food prepping pertinent to the server area.

You may find some of the items that are on the opening checklist also are on the closing checklist. It is very important to cross check everything to ensure that nothing is left undone. The opening server plays a huge role in preparing the shift prior to the opening of the restaurant. If you have more than one opening server then the checklist can be divided up between the servers. The manager on duty should periodically check the server's opening task to verify it is being completed. If needed the manager should pitch in to ensure the restaurant is ready before the restaurant opens.
