

A photograph of a church interior. In the background, a man in a dark suit and tie stands behind a wooden pulpit. Behind him is a large, colorful stained glass window with various geometric and abstract designs. In the foreground, a white wooden altar is visible, decorated with a large, vibrant floral arrangement of red and blue flowers. A wooden cross stands to the left of the altar. The text "Pastor's Report" is overlaid in large white letters across the top half of the image.

Annual Report, International Religious Freedom United States. Department of State, 2008 *108-1 Joint Committee Print: Annual Report on International Religious Freedom 2003, December 2003, , 2004 Wesleyan-Holiness Churches in Australia Glen O'Brien, 2018-04-17 Most Wesleyan Holiness churches started in the US developing out of the Methodist roots of the nineteenth century Holiness Movement The American origins of the Holiness movement have been charted in some depth but there is currently little detail on how it developed outside of the US This book seeks to redress this imbalance by giving a history of North American Wesleyan Holiness churches in Australia from their establishment in the years following the Second World War as well as of The Salvation Army which has nineteenth century British origins It traces the way some of these churches moved from marginalised sects to established denominations while others remained small and isolated Looking at The Church of God Anderson The Church of God Cleveland The Church of the Nazarene The Salvation Army and The Wesleyan Methodist Church in Australia the book argues two main points Firstly it shows that rather than being American imperialism at work these religious expressions were a creative partnership between like minded evangelical Christians from two modern nations sharing a general cultural similarity and set of religious convictions Secondly it demonstrates that it was those churches that showed the most willingness to be theologically flexible even dialling down some of their Wesleyan distinctiveness that had the most success This is the first book to chart the fascinating development of Holiness churches in Australia As such it will be of keen interest to scholars of Wesleyans and Methodists as well as religious history and the sociology of religion more generally Annual Report Congregational Home Missionary Society, 1902 Report for 1927 includes a summary of the work of the Congregational Sunday School Extension Society for 1926 27 *Annual Report on International Religious Freedom 2005, April 2006, 109-2 Joint Committee Print, , 2006
