Krantz,2012-12-06 Logic is and should be the core subject area of modern mathematics The blueprint for twentieth century mathematical thought thanks to Hilbert and Bourbaki is the axiomatic development of the subject As a result logic plays a central conceptual role At the same time mathematical logic has grown into one of the most recondite areas of mathematics Most of modern logic is inaccessible to all but the specialist Yet there is a need for many mathematical scientists not just those engaged in mathematical research to become conversant with the key ideas of logic The Handbook of Mathematical Logic edited by Jon Barwise is in point of fact a handbook written by logicians for other mathematicians It was at the time of its writing encyclopedic authoritative and up to the moment But it was and remains a comprehensive and authoritative book for the cognoscenti The encyclopedic Handbook of Logic in Computer Science by Abramsky Gabbay and Maibaum is a wonderful resource for the professional But it is overwhelming for the casual user There is need for a book that introduces important logic terminology and concepts to the working mathematical scientist who has only a passing acquaintance with logic Thus the present work has a different target audience The intent of this handbook is to present the elements of modern logic including many current topics to the reader having only basic mathematical literacy      The Oxford Handbook of Down Syndrome and Development Jacob A. Burack,Jamie Edgin,Leonard Abbeduto,2023 The chapter traces some key historical developments in the field of Down syndrome After describing general issues of classification in intellectual disabilities we describe Langdon Down's identification of the syndrome in the 1860s the movement to name the syndrome after Down the identification of trisomy 21 as the syndrome's cause and the beginnings of sustained research attention to the syndrome We end with a glimpse into the future discussing issues of longer life spans more integrated lives and the roles of families organizations and self advocates Working together researchers practitioners and individuals and their families can all continue to advance the lives of persons with Down syndrome      Real Estate Record and Builders' Guide ,1926      InfoWorld ,1989-09-04 InfoWorld is targeted to Senior IT professionals Content is segmented into Channels and Topic Centers InfoWorld also celebrates people companies and projects      InfoWorld ,1990-02-12 InfoWorld is targeted to Senior IT professionals Content is segmented into Channels and Topic Centers InfoWorld also celebrates people companies and projects
