

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PAPER 4

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

This paper consists of two parts: Part A, Group Interaction; and Part B, Individual Response. Part B will immediately follow Part A. DO NOT write anything on this page.

PART A Group Interaction

You will be given 10 minutes to prepare. The time allowed for the group interaction is 8 minutes (or 6 minutes for a group of 3 candidates). You may make notes on the notecard provided and refer to your notes during the discussion.

This letter to the editor appeared in a local newspaper:

Old lai see

E-lai see

New lai see

E-payment is becoming ever more popular in Hong Kong, and is even used in the traditional wet markets, as most customers find it convenient. After 20 years Octopus no longer has a monopoly, with rivals such as Alipay and Apple Pay competing for a share of the pie.

Although technology definitely enhances our quality of life, in some areas traditional money is still important. For example, can an electronic red packet really convey the same warmth and feeling as a real lai see (or red packets) full of new bank notes? Is giving new notes still a must for lai see?

Whatever you yourself feel about these questions, the change is already well underway in China. The United Overseas Bank found four out of five people in mainland China gave digital lai see this year. The traditional values of the Lunar New Year would seem to be being replaced by new habits in the digital era.

To me, and to many people of my generation, the Lunar New Year should be about fireworks, good food, visits to parents and relatives, New Year greetings and real money lai see gifts. Family reunions should be given top priority as people celebrate, but young people are starting to see it differently and the use of electronic lai see is just another example of their indifferent attitude towards the spring festival and traditional values in general.

Joy Fung, Yau Yat Chuen

You have been asked to write an essay titled: "Are Hongkongers open to change?" Your group has been asked to discuss the use of e-payments as lai see. You may want to talk about:

- why people are using e-payments for lai see
- whether real money will remain popular
- what other changes to the Lunar New Year people might dislike
- anything else you think is important

PART B Individual Response

The examiner will ask you one or more questions based on Part A. You will have up to 1 minute to respond.
