Argumentative Essay (Final and Draft)

Overview

Argumentative essays differ from narrative, expository, or analytical essays fundamentally in that you're writing to take a stand, to persuade your audience to accept a particular position, to convince your audience of a particular argument. The emphasis in argumentative essays is to make and prove an argument with convincing evidence and sound, logical reasoning. The purposes and requirements for this essay, therefore, are quite different from those for the previous essays.

Objectives

Through this assignment, you will learn to:

- construct an argument using various methods of argumentation,
- gather, summarize, synthesize, and explain information from various sources,
- incorporate sources into your argumentation using MLA style,
- produce coherent, organized, readable prose for different rhetorical situations,
- engage in writing as a process, including invention (such as brainstorming for ideas),
- developing a thesis statement, drafting, revising, editing, and proofreading,
- respond to your classmates' writing and provide constructive feedback,
