The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick, 2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace s reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America s oldest public schools Music, Health and Wellbeing Naomi Sunderland,Natalie Lewandowski,Dan Bendrups,Brydie-Leigh Bartleet,2017-12-01 This book explores the power music has to address health inequalities and the social determinants of health and wellbeing It examines music participation as a determinant of wellbeing and as a transformative tool to impact on wider social cultural and environmental conditions Uniquely in this volume health and wellbeing outcomes are conceptualised on a continuum with potential effects identified in relation to individual participants their communities but also society at large While arts therapy approaches have a clear place in the text the emphasis is on music making outside of clinical contexts and the broader roles musicians music facilitators and educators can play in enhancing wellbeing in a range of settings beyond the therapy room This innovative edited collection will be of great interest to scholars and practitioners of music social services medical humanities education and the broader health field in the social and medical sciences Aquaponics Food Production Systems Simon Goddek,Alyssa Joyce,Benz Kotzen,Gavin M. Burnell,2019-06-21 This open access book written by world experts in aquaponics and related technologies provides the authoritative and comprehensive overview of the key aquaculture and hydroponic and other integrated systems socio economic and environmental aspects Aquaponic systems which combine aquaculture and vegetable food production offer alternative technology solutions for a world that is increasingly under stress through population growth urbanisation water shortages land and soil degradation environmental pollution world hunger and climate change Research Methods in Consumer Law Hans-W. Micklitz,Anne-Lise Sibony,Fabrizio Esposito, Consumer law is worthy of greater academic attention at a time when many new questions arise and old ones need new answers This unique handbook takes the reader on a journey through existing literature research questions and methods It builds on the state of the art to offer a springboard for jumping to the heart of contemporary issues and equips researchers with a starter s kit to weave together rich traditions ranging from socio economics to behavioural analysis Handbook of Academic Integrity

Sarah Elaine Eaton,2023-12-04 The book brings together diverse views from around the world and provides a comprehensive overview of academic integrity and how to create the ethical academy At the same time the Handbook does not shy away from some of the vigorous debates in the field such as the causes of academic integrity breaches There has been an explosion of interest in academic integrity in the last 20 30 years New technologies that have made it easier than ever for students to cut and paste coupled with global media scandals of high profile researchers behaving badly have resulted in the perception that plagiarism is on the rise This in combination with the massification and commercialisation of higher education has resulted in a burgeoning interest in the importance of academic integrity how to safeguard it and how to address breaches appropriately What may have seemed like a relatively easy topic to address students copying sources without attribution has in fact turned out to be a complex interdisciplinary field of research requiring contributions from linguists psychologists social scientists anthropologists teaching and learning specialists mathematicians accountants medical doctors lawyers and philosophers to name just a few Because of this broad interest and input this handbook serves as the single authoritative reference work which brings together the vast growing interdisciplinary and at times contradictory body of literature For both established researchers practitioners and those new to the field this Handbook provides a one stop shop as well as a launching pad for new explorations and discussions

Supervision in the Hospitality Industry John R. Walker,Jack E. Miller,2015-12-29 Supervision in the Hospitality Industry 8th Edition focuses on the different roles of employees from beginning leaders newly promoted supervisor or anyone planning a career in the hospitality field A market leader this text is widely used by thousands of students training for a career in the hospitality industry and current hospitality supervisors alike Supervision is unique in that it does not solely rely on the supervisor s point of view instead it considers the viewpoints of all levels of associates to create an informed picture of management and supervision in the hospitality industry Global Challenges, National Initiatives, and Institutional Responses Cláudia Sarrico,Pedro Teixeira,António Magalhães,Amélia Veiga,Maria João Rosa,Teresa Carvalho,2016-08-19 In this book we aim to discuss and reflect on how HEIs are coping with the demands placed on them and how the various dimensions of change are intertwined In particular we aim to discuss the following questions How do governance regimes steer higher education institutions This part of the book focuses its attention on how higher education and research institutions operate under different governance regimes at international regional and national levels and how that context shapes governance and management arrangements at institutional level How are institutions managing their quality and performance This part deals with the systems institutions are developing to manage their quality and their wider performance to cope with the internal and external forces pressing them to constantly improve their levels of quality and wider performance in teaching research and third mission How are higher education professionals responding to the transformations This part is devoted to investigate the ways academic and non academic professionals working in higher education and research institutions respond to the transformations occurring in their organisations and changes in practices and functions performed by those working in higher education It also explores the implication of higher education transformations on students Metrics That Matter Zachary Bleemer,Mukul Kumar,Aashish Mehta,Chris Muellerleile,Christopher Newfield,2023-03-21 This book examines alternative perspectives on often flawed and misleading college metrics to help students make important education decisions Global Action on School Library Guidelines Barbara A. Schultz-Jones,Dianne Oberg,2015-06-16 This book celebrates the new IFLA School Library Guidelines and shows how the Guidelines can be used in improving school library services Each chapter describes innovative initiatives for developing implementing and promoting school library guidelines The book provides inspiration and guidance for the creation of national school library standards and for the development and use of standards and guidelines to change school library practice to define the teaching role of school librarians to guide the initial preparation of school librarians and to advocate for school library services Contributors to the book come from around the world Australia Canada Ethiopia France Malaysia Norway Poland Portugal Spain Sweden and the United States Their work illustrates the shared commitment of school librarians around the world to teaching and learning for all as envisioned in the IFLA UNESCO School Library Manifesto

Reimagining Climate Change Paul Wapner,Hilal Elver,2016-02-05 Responding to climate change has become an industry Governments corporations activist groups and others now devote billions of dollars to mitigation and adaptation and their efforts represent one of the most significant policy measures ever dedicated to a global challenge Despite its laudatory intent the response industry or Climate Inc is failing Reimagining Climate Change questions established categories routines and practices that presently constitute accepted solutions to tackling climate change and offers alternative routes forward It does so by unleashing the political imagination The chapters grasp the larger arc of collective experience interpret its meaning for the choices we face and creatively visualize alternative trajectories that can help us cognitively and emotionally enter into alternative climate futures They probe the meaning and effectiveness of climate protection from below forms of community and practice that are emerging in various locales around the world and that hold promise for greater collective resonance They also question climate protection from above in the form of industrial and modernist orientations and examine large scale agribusinesses as well as criticize the concept of resilience as it is presently being promoted as a response to climate change This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of climate change global environmental politics and environmental studies in general as well as climate change activists Frontiers in the Acquisition of Literacy Claire M. Fletcher-Flinn,2015-09-28 Learning to read and to spell are two of the most important cultural skills that must be acquired by children and for that matter anyone learning a second language We are not born with an innate ability to read A reading system of mental representations that enables us to read must be formed in the brain Learning to read in alphabetic orthographies is the acquisition of such a system which links mental representations of visual symbols letters in print words with pre existing phonological sound and semantic comprehension cognitive systems for language Although spelling draws on the same representational knowledge base and is usually correlated with reading the acquisition processes involved are not quite the same Spelling requires the sequential production of letters in words and at beginning levels there may not be a full degree of integration of phonology with its representation by the orthography Reading on the other hand requires only the recognition of a word for pronunciation Hence spelling is more difficult than reading and learning to spell may necessitate more complete representations or more conscious access to them The learning processes that children use to acquire such cognitive systems in the brain and whether these same processes are universal across different languages and orthographies are central theoretical questions Most children learn to read and spell their language at the same time thus the co ordination of these two facets of literacy acquisition needs explication as well as the effect of different teaching approaches on acquisition Lack of progress in either reading and or spelling is also a major issue of concern for parents and teachers necessitating a cross disciplinary approach to the problem encompassing major efforts from researchers in neuroscience cognitive science experimental psychology and education The purpose of this Research Topic is to summarize and review what has been accomplished so far and to further explore these general issues Contributions from different perspectives are welcomed and could include theoretical computational and empirical works that focus on the acquisition of literacy including cross orthographic research

Holocaust Education in Primary Schools in the Twenty-First Century Claus-Christian W. Szejnmann, Paula Cowan, James Griffiths, 2018-07-09 This collection is the first of its kind bringing together Holocaust educational researchers as well as school and museum educators from across the globe to discuss the potentials of Holocaust education in relation to primary school children Its contributors are from countries that have a unique relationship with the Holocaust such as Germany Israel neutral Switzerland and Allied countries outside the UK Their research provides new insight into the diverse ways in which primary aged students engage with Holocaust education Chapters explore the impact of teaching the Holocaust to this age group school and museum teaching pedagogies and primary students perspectives of the Holocaust This book will appeal to school and museum educators of primary aged students whose work requires them to teach the Holocaust Citizenship or Civics or Human Rights Education Since the turn of the twenty first century there has been a transformation in school and museum based Holocaust education This book clearly demonstrates that primary education has been included in this transformation

Reinventing America's Schools David Osborne, 2017-09-05 From David Osborne the author of Reinventing Government a biting analysis of the failure of America s public schools and a comprehensive plan for revitalizing American education In Reinventing America s Schools David Osborne one of the world s foremost experts on public sector reform offers a comprehensive analysis of the charter school movements and presents a theory that will do for American schools what his New York Times bestseller Reinventing Government did for public governance in 1992 In 2005 when Hurricane Katrina devastated New Orleans the city got an unexpected opportunity to recreate their school system from scratch The state s Recovery School District RSD created to turn around failing schools gradually transformed all of its New Orleans schools into charter schools and the results are shaking the very foundations of American education Test scores school performance scores graduation and dropout rates ACT scores college going rates and independent studies all tell the same story the city's RSD schools have tripled their effectiveness in eight years Now other cities are following suit with state governments reinventing failing schools in Newark Camden Memphis Denver Indianapolis Cleveland and Oakland In this book Osborne uses compelling stories from cities like New Orleans and lays out the history and possible future of public education Ultimately he uses his extensive research to argue that in today's world we should treat every public school like a charter school and grant them autonomy accountability diversity of school designs and parental choice

Data and Research to Improve the U.S. Food Availability System and Estimates of Food Loss National Research Council, Institute of Medicine, Food and Nutrition Board, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, 2015-01-02 The United States Department of Agriculture's USDA's Economic Research Service's ERS Food Availability Data System includes three distinct but related data series on food and nutrient availability for consumption The data serve as popular proxies for actual consumption at the national level for over 200 commodities e.g. fresh spinach beef and eggs The core Food Availability FA data series provides data on the amount of food available per capita for human consumption in the United States with data back to 1909 for many commodities The Loss Adjusted Food Availability LAFA data series is derived from the FA data series by adjusting for food spoilage plate waste and other losses to more closely approximate actual intake The LAFA data provide daily estimates of the per capita availability amounts adjusted for loss e.g. in pounds ounces grams and gallons as appropriate calories and food pattern equivalents i.e. servings of the five major food groups fruit vegetables grains meat and dairy available for consumption plus the amounts of added sugars and sweeteners and added fats and oils available for consumption This fiscal year as part of its initiative to systematically review all of its major data series ERS decided to review the FADS data system One of the goals of this review is to advance the knowledge and understanding of the measurement and technical aspects of the data supporting FADS so the data can be maintained and improved Data and Research to Improve the U.S. Food Availability System and Estimates of Food Loss is the summary of a workshop convened by the Committee on National Statistics of the National Research Council and the Food and Nutrition Board of the Institute of Medicine to advance knowledge and understanding of the measurement and technical aspects of the data supporting the LAFA data series so that these data series and subsequent food availability and food loss estimates can be maintained and improved The workshop considered such issues as the effects of termination of selected Census Bureau and USDA data series on estimates for affected food groups and commodities the potential for using other data sources such as scanner data to improve estimates of food availability and possible ways to improve the data on food loss at the farm and retail levels and at restaurants This report considers knowledge gaps data sources that may be available or could be generated to fill gaps what can be learned from other countries and international organizations ways to ensure consistency of treatment of commodities across series and the most promising opportunities for new data for the various food availability series

Disability and Development Report United Nations DESA,2019-06-12 Disability inclusive development is an essential condition for a sustainable future In 2015 the United Nations adopted the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development pledging to leave no one behind in the global efforts to realize the 17 Sustainable Development Goals Without the world s one billion persons with disabilities 15% of the world population being included as both agents and beneficiaries of development these Goals will never be achieved Yet persons with disabilities are still invisible and often left behind This United Nations flagship report is the first publication to address at the global level the nexus between disability and the Sustainable Development Goals It is also the first global analysis based on an unprecedented amount of data legislation and policies from over 100 countries to understand the socio economic circumstances of persons with disabilities and the challenges and barriers they face in their daily lives This report examines new areas like the role of access to energy to enable persons with disabilities to use assistive technology for which no global research was previously available And explores the linkages between the Sustainable Development Goals and the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities as well as other international relevant norms and standards relating to disability Against the backdrop of all the available evidence the report identifies good practices and recommends urgent actions to be taken for the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals by for and with persons with disabilities The e book for this publication has been converted into an accessible format for the visually impaired and people with print reading disabilities It is fully compatible with leading screen reader technologies such as JAWS and NVDA
