Benson,2017-09-10 Excerpt The mysteries of the Church a materialistic scientist once announced to an astonished world are child s play compared with the mysteries of nature He was completely wrong of course yet there was every excuse for his mistake For as he himself tells us in effect he found everywhere in that created nature which he knew so well anomaly piled on anomaly and paradox on paradox and he knew no more of theology than its simpler and more explicit statements We can be certain therefore we who understand that the mysteries of nature are after all within the limited circle of created life while the mysteries of grace run up into the supreme Mystery of the eternal and uncreated Life of God we can be certain that if nature is mysterious and paradoxical grace will be incalculably more mysterious For every paradox in the world of matter in whose environment our bodies are confined we shall find a hundred in that atmosphere of spirit in which our spirits breathe and move those spirits of ours which themselves paradoxically enough are forced to energize under material limitations We need look no further then to find these mysteries than to that tiny mirror of the Supernatural which we call our self to that little thread of experience which we name the spiritual life How is it for example that while in one mood our religion is the lamp of our shadowy existence in another it is the single dark spot upon a world of pleasure in one mood the single thing that makes life worth living at all and in another the one obstacle to our contentment What are those sorrowful and joyful mysteries of human life mutually contradictory yet together resultant as in the Rosary itself in others that are glorious Turn to that master passion that underlies these mysteries the passion that is called love and see if there be anything more inexplicable than such an explanation What is this passion then that turns joy to sorrow and sorrow to joy this motive that drives a man to lose his life that he may save it that turns bitter to sweet and makes the cross but a light yoke

after all that causes him to find his centre outside his own circle and to please himself best by depriving himself of pleasure What is that power that so often fills us with delights before we have begun to labour and rewards our labour with the darkness of dereliction I If our interior life then is full of paradox and apparent contradiction and there is no soul that has made any progress that does not find it so we should naturally expect that the Divine Life of Jesus Christ on earth which is the central Objective Light of the World reflected in ourselves should be full of yet more amazing anomalies Let us examine the records of that Life and see if it be not so And let us for that purpose begin by imagining such an examination to be made by an inquirer who has never received the Christian tradition Paradoxes of Catholicism ,2015-05-14 Paradoxes of Catholicism from Benson Robert Hugh English Anglican priest who joined the Roman Catholic Church 1871 1914

Paradoxes of Catholicism (Classic Reprint) Robert Hugh Benson,2015-06-28 Excerpt from Paradoxes of Catholicism I and My Father are one John x 30 My Father is greater than I John XIV 20 The mysteries of the Church a materialistic scientist once announced to an astonished world are child s play compared with the mysteries of nature l He was completely wrong of course yet there was every excuse for his mistake For as he himself tells us in effect he found everywhere in that created nature which he knew so well anomaly piled on anomaly and paradox on paradox and he knew no more of theology than its Simpler and more explicit statements About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Paradoxes of Catholicism Robert Hugh Benson,2014-01-13 We have considered so far a number of paradoxical phenomena exhibited in the life of Catholicism and have attempted to find their reconciliation in the fact that the Catholic Church is at once Human and Divine In her striving for example after a Divine and supernatural Peace of which she alone possesses the secret she resists even unto blood all human attempts to supplant this by another As a human society again she avails herself freely of human opportunities and aids of earthly and created beauty for the setting forth of her message yet she can survive as can no human society when she is deprived of her human rights and her acquired wealth As human she numbers the great multitude of the world s sinners among her children yet as Divine she has produced the saints As Divine she bases all her gospel on a Revelation which can be apprehended only by Faith yet as human she employs the keenest and most profound intellects for its analysis and its propagation In these and in many other similar points it has been attempted to show why she offers now one aspect and now another to human criticism and how it is that the very charges made against her become when viewed in the light of her double claim actual credentials and arguments on behalf of that claim Finally in the meditations upon the Seven Words of Christ we considered very briefly how in the hours of the deepest humiliation of His Humanity He revealed again and again the characteristics of His Divinity It now remains to consider that point in which she most manifests that double nature of hers and simultaneously therefore presents as in a kind of climax her identity under human terms with Him Who Himself the Lord of Life conquered death by submitting to it and by His Resurrection from the dead showed Himself the Son of God with power

Paradoxes of Catholicism Robert Hugh Benson, 2021-02-21 We have seen how the Church of the Prince of Peace must continually be the centre of war Let us go on to consider how as a Human Society dwelling in this world she must continually have her eyes fixed upon the next and how as a Divine Society she must be open to the charge of worldliness I i The charge is a very common one Look at the extraordinary wealth and splendour that this Church of the Poor Man of Nazareth constantly gathers around her and ask yourself how she dares to claim to represent Him Go through Holy Rome and see how the richest and most elaborate buildings bear over their gateways the heraldic emblems of Christ's Vicar Go through any country which has not risen in disgust and cast off the sham that calls herself Christ's Church and you will find that no worldly official is so splendid as these heavenly delegates of Jesus Christ no palaces more glorious than those in which they dwell who pretend to preach Him who had not where to lay His head Above all turn from that simple poverty stricken figure that the Gospels present to us to the man who claims to be His Vicegerent on earth See him go crowned three times over on a throne borne on men's shoulders with the silver trumpets shrilling before him and the ostrich fans coming on behind and you will understand why the world cannot take the Church seriously Look at the court that is about him all purple and scarlet and set by that the little band of weather beaten fishermen No if this Church were truly of Christ she would imitate Him better It was His supreme mission to point to things that are above to lift men's thoughts above dress and gold and jewels and worldly influence and high places and power to point to a Heavenly Jerusalem not made with hands to comfort the sorrowful with a vision of future peace not to dabble with temporal matters to speak of grace and heaven and things to come and to let the dead bury their dead The best we can do for her then is to disembarass her of her riches to turn her temporal possessions to frankly temporal ends to release her from the slavery of her own ambition into the liberty of the poor and the children of God

Paradoxes of Catholicism Robert Hugh Benson, 2019-06-17 Paradoxes of Catholicism by Robert Hugh Benson is a captivating anthology that explores the profound complexities of faith through a collection of sermons In Christ in the Church A Volume of Sermons Benson delves into the dual nature of Jesus Christ and the Catholic Church delivering sermons in England New York and Rome during the early 20th century This thought provoking work examines the paradoxes of Jesus as both divine and human and the Catholic Church as both sacred and earthly Through intricate reflections and theological discussions the sermons explore the mysteries of faith

the challenge of reconciling divine perfection with human imperfection and the ongoing significance of these paradoxes in contemporary spiritual life Benson addresses criticisms and misunderstandings surrounding Catholicism presenting a compelling argument for its unique role as an extension of Christ's incarnation This anthology invites readers to engage with the rich complexities of faith encouraging a deeper appreciation of the spiritual journey and the enduring truths of Christian doctrine A must read for those seeking a deeper understanding of the Catholic faith and its profound impact on human history and personal spirituality Paradoxes of Catholicism offers a unique perspective on the Catholic Church and its sermons This anthology is essential for anyone interested in the Catholic Church sermons and English theological discourse of the 20th century providing valuable insights into the enduring relevance of Catholic teachings in modern life Paradoxes of Catholicism Robert Hugh Benson, 2017-09-10 Excerpt The mysteries of the Church a materialistic scientist once announced to an astonished world are child's play compared with the mysteries of nature He was completely wrong of course yet there was every excuse for his mistake For as he himself tells us in effect he found everywhere in that created nature which he knew so well anomaly piled on anomaly and paradox on paradox and he knew no more of theology than its simpler and more explicit statements We can be certain therefore we who understand that the mysteries of nature are after all within the limited circle of created life while the mysteries of grace run up into the supreme Mystery of the eternal and uncreated Life of God we can be certain that if nature is mysterious and paradoxical grace will be incalculably more mysterious For every paradox in the world of matter in whose environment our bodies are confined we shall find a hundred in that atmosphere of spirit in which our spirits breathe and move those spirits of ours which themselves paradoxically enough are forced to energize under material limitations We need look no further then to find these mysteries than to that tiny mirror of the Supernatural which we call our self to that little thread of experience which we name the spiritual life How is it for example that while in one mood our religion is the lamp of our shadowy existence in another it is the single dark spot upon a world of pleasure in one mood the single thing that makes life worth living at all and in another the one obstacle to our contentment What are those sorrowful and joyful mysteries of human life mutually contradictory yet together resultant as in the Rosary itself in others that are glorious Turn to that master passion that underlies these mysteries the passion that is called love and see if there be anything more inexplicable than such an explanation What is this passion then that turns joy to sorrow and sorrow to joy this motive that drives a man to lose his life that he may save it that turns bitter to sweet and makes the cross but a light yoke after all that causes him to find his centre outside his own circle and to please himself best by depriving himself of pleasure What is that power that so often fills us with delights before we have begun to labour and rewards our labour with the darkness of dereliction I If our interior life then is full of paradox and apparent contradiction and there is no soul that has made any progress that does not find it so we should naturally expect that the Divine Life of Jesus Christ on earth which is the central Objective Light of the World reflected in ourselves should be full of yet more amazing anomalies

Let us examine the records of that Life and see if it be not so And let us for that purpose begin by imagining such an examination to be made by an inquirer who has never received the Christian tradition Paradoxes of Catholicism Robert Hugh Benson, 2015-02-23 Now those who stand without the walls of the City of Peace know nothing it is true of the life that its citizens lead within nothing of the harmony and consolation that Catholicism alone can give Yet of certain points it may be in the large outlines of that city against the sky of the place it occupies in the world of its wide effect upon human life in general it may very well be that these detached observers may know more than the devout who dwell at peace within Let us then consider their reflections not necessarily as wholly false it may be that they have caught glimpses which we have missed and relations which either we take too much for granted or have failed altogether to see It may be that these accusations will turn out to be our credentials in disguise Paradoxes of Catholicism (1913).
