

Good Political Philosophy Paper

Introduction

Many students believe that writing a paper in philosophy is unlike any other kind of writing. This is an exaggeration. Writing a good philosophy paper is very much like writing a good paper in history, economics, literature, or biology. A good paper requires a particularly careful use of language and a particularly close examination of ideas and arguments. Because a good paper is a good paper, the guidelines sketched here apply with equal force in other courses as well.

It's important, however, to stress just how central good writing is when doing philosophy. As a general matter, your writing is a good measure of your ability to communicate ideas. But in philosophy, the quality of your writing is not just a measure of your ability to communicate; it is also a measure of your ability to think. If you cannot express your thoughts in a clear, concise, and cohesive manner, then your thoughts themselves are not clear, concise, or cohesive. Philosophical writing exercises your thinking; learning to write better is inseparable from learning to think better. In philosophy, becoming a good writer is the same thing as become a good thinker.

Basic Requirements

A good philosophical essay possesses five "C's": Clarity, Conciseness, Cogency, Cohesiveness, and Creativity.

Clarity: A good paper makes clear how the writer uses different terms; it avoids confusing sentences or arguments; and it demonstrates an unambiguous position on the issue it address. The reader should not be puzzled as to where the writer stands.

Conciseness: A good paper makes its argument succinctly; each sentence contributes to the paper; it does not repeat itself.
