Conversations on Conflict Photography Lauren Walsh, 2020-09-08 In today's image saturated culture the visual documentation of suffering around the world is more prevalent than ever Yet instead of always deepening the knowledge or compassion of viewers conflict photography can result in fatigue or even inspire apathy Given this tension between the genre's ostensible goals and its effects what is the purpose behind taking and showing images of war and crisis Conversations on Conflict Photography invites readers to think through these issues via conversations with award winning photographers as well as leading photo editors and key representatives of the major human rights and humanitarian organizations Framed by critical historical essays these dialogues explore the complexities and ethical dilemmas of this line of work The practitioners relate the struggles of their craft from brushes with death on the frontlines to the battles for space resources and attention in our media driven culture Despite these obstacles they remain true to a purpose one that is palpable as they celebrate remarkable success stories from changing the life of a single individual to raising broad awareness about human rights issues Opening with an insightful foreword by the renowned Sebastian Junger and richly illustrated with challenging painful and sometimes beautiful images Conversations offers a uniquely rounded examination of the value of conflict photography in today's world

Photography after Photography Abigail Solomon-Godeau, 2017-03-23 Presenting two decades of work by Abigail Solomon Godeau Photography after Photography is an inquiry into the circuits of power that shape photographic practice criticism and historiography As the boundaries that separate photography from other forms of artistic production are increasingly fluid Solomon Godeau a pioneering feminist and politically engaged critic argues that the relationships between photography culture gender and power demand renewed attention In her analyses of the photographic production of Cindy Sherman Robert Mapplethorpe Susan Meiselas Francesca Woodman and others Solomon Godeau refigures the disciplinary object of photography by considering these practices through an examination of the determinations of genre and gender as these shape the relations between photographers their images and their viewers Among her subjects are the 2006 Abu Ghraib prison photographs and the Cold War era exhibition The Family of Man insofar as these illustrate photography's embeddedness in social relations viewing relations and ideological formations

The Materiality of Exhibition Photography in the Modernist Era Laurie Taylor, 2020-12-30 This book challenges the status quo of the materiality of exhibited photographs by considering examples from the early to mid twentieth century when photography's place in the museum was not only continually questioned but also continually redefined By taking this historical approach Laurie Taylor demonstrates the ways in which materiality as opposed to image was used to privilege the exhibited photograph as either an artwork or as non art information Consequently the exhibited photograph is revealed like its vernacular cousins to be a social object whose material form far from being supplemental is instead integral and essential to the generation of meaning The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history history of photography theory of photography curatorial studies and museum studies

The Artificial Body in Fashion and Art Adam Geczy, 2016-11-03 Artificial bodies constructed in human likeness from uncanny automatons to mechanical dolls have long played a complex and subtle role in human identity and culture This book takes a range of these bodies from antiquity to the present day to explore how we seek out echoes caricatures and replications of ourselves in order to make sense of the complex world in which we live Packed with case studies from the commedia del arte to Hans Bellmer and the 1980s supermodel this volume explores the divide between the real and the constructed Arguing that the body other plays a crucial role in the formation of the self physically and psychologically leading scholar Adam Geczy contends that the natural body has been replaced by a series of imaginary archetypes in our post modern world central to which is the figure of the doll The Artificial Body in Fashion and Art provides a much needed synthesis of constructed bodies across time and place drawing on fashion theory theatre studies and material culture to explore what the body means in the realms of identity gender performance and art

Bair,2020-07-07 Since its founding in 1947 the legendary Magnum Photos agency has been telling its own story about photographers who were witnesses to history and artists on the hunt for decisive moments Based on unprecedented archival research The Decisive Network unravels Magnum s mythologies to offer a new history of what it meant to shoot edit and sell news images after World War II Nadya Bair shows that between the 1940s and 1960s Magnum expanded the human interest story to global dimensions while bringing the aesthetic of news pictures into new markets Working with a vast range of editorial and corporate clients Magnum made photojournalism integral to postwar visual culture But its photographers could not have done this alone By unpacking the collaborative nature of photojournalism this book shows how picture editors sales agents spouses and publishers helped Magnum photographers succeed in their assignments and achieve fame Bair concludes in the late 1960s and early 1970s when changing market conditions led Magnum to consolidate its brand In that moment Magnum s photojournalists became artists and their assignments oeuvres Bridging art history media studies cultural history and the history of communication The Decisive Network transforms our understanding of the photographic profession and the global circulation of images in the predigital world Photographic Elicitation and Narration in Teachers Education and Development Antonio Bautista García-Vera,2023-01-23 This open access book discusses the functionality of the use of the language of photography in teachers initial and ongoing training It analyzes the nature of photography as a representation system facilitating inquiry and reflection on its practice for teachers and evocating on theories and beliefs that may guide their work in classrooms Photography is used to represent symbolically and affectively possible contradictions in teaching activities or the inconsistencies between planned teaching tasks and the educational purposes pursued Resolving these conflicts is one of the ways to promote professional development This book also describes photo elicitation and photographic storytelling as work procedures By analyzing the contributions of these techniques the development of teachers is improved

Evidence and the Archive Katherine Biber,Trish Luker,2018-09-03 This collection explores the stakes risks and opportunities invoked in opening and exploring law's archive and re-examining law's evidence. It draws together work exploring how evidence is used or misused during the legal process and re-used after the law's work has concluded by engaging with ethical, aesthetic or emotional dimensions of using law's evidence. Within socio-legal discourse, the move towards open justice has emerged concurrently with a much broader cultural sensibility, one that has been called the archival turn. Ann Laura Stoler, the archival impulse, Hal Foster and archive fever, Jacques Derrida. Whilst these terms do not describe exactly the same phenomena, they collectively acknowledge the process by which we create a fetish of the stored document. The archive facilitates our material confrontation with history, historicity, order, linearity, time and bureaucracy. For lawyers, artists, journalists, publishers, curators and scholars, the document in the archive has the attributes of authenticity, contemporaneity and the unique tangibility of a real moment captured in material form. These attributes form the basis for the strict interpretive limits imposed by the rules of evidence and procedure. These rules do not contain the other attributes of the archival document: those that make it irresistible as the basis for creative work, beauty, violence, surprise, shame, volume and the promise that it contains a tantalising secret. This book was previously published as a special issue of Australian Feminist Law Journal.

Visualising China in Southern Africa Juliette Leeb-du Toit, Ruth Simbao, Ross Anthony, Rui Assubuji, Ying Cheng, Malcolm Corrigan, Romain Dittgen, Esther Esmyol, Philip Harrison, Patricia Hayes, Binjun Hu, T Tu Huynh, Nicola Kritzing, Mark Lewis, Khangelani Moyo, Stary Mwaba, Marcus Neustetter, Kristin NG-Yang, Gemma Rodrigues, Shuo Wang, Yan Yang, Lifang Zhang, 2023-03-01. China and Africa have long shared a history of allegiance and contact points through global political forces from the time of colonialism and the Cold War. With China's rise as the new superpower, its presence in Africa has expanded, leading to significant economic, geopolitical and cultural shifts. While issues such as trade, aid and development have received much attention, Chinese and African encounters through the lens of the visual arts and material culture is a neglected field. Visualising China in Southern Africa: Biography, Circulation, Transgression is a ground-breaking volume that addresses this deficit through engaging with the work of contemporary African and Chinese artists while analysing broader material production that prefigures the current relationship. The essays are wide-ranging in their analysis of ceramics, photography, painting, etching, sculpture, film, performance, postcards, stamps, installations, political posters, cartoons and architecture. Visualising China in Southern Africa confines its focus to southern Africa, yet even within this region, the context is complex. Ethnicity and nationalism, the lingering influence of Cold War allegiances and colonial configurations all continue to play a role. The various visual cultures discussed in this volume emphasise the commonality of these categories but also point towards other shared histories that transcend the nation-state category. The collection includes scholarly chapters, photo-essays, interviews and artists' personal accounts, organised around four themes: material flows, orientations and transgressions, spatial imaginaries and biographies. The artists, photographers, filmmakers, curators and collectors in this volume include Stary Mwaba, Hua Jiming, Anawana Haloba, Gerald Machona, Nobukho Nqaba, Marcus
