Rethinking Curating Art After New Media:

Rethinking Curating Beryl Graham, Sarah Cook, 2010 Redefining curatorial practice for those working with new kinds of art

New Collecting: Exhibiting and Audiences after New Media Art Beryl Graham, 2016-04-29 The collections of museums galleries and online art organisations are increasingly broadening to include more new media art Because new media is used as a means of documenting archiving and distributing art and because new media art might be interactive with its audiences this highlights the new kinds of relationships that might occur between audiences as viewers participants selectors taggers or taxonomisers New media art presents many challenges to the curator and collector but there is very little published analytical material available to help meet those challenges This book fills that gap Drawing from the editor's extensive research and the authors expertise in the field the book provides clear navigation through a disparate arena The authors offer examples from a wide geographical reach including the UK North America and Asia and integrate the consideration of audience response into all aspects of their work The book will be essential reading for those studying or practicing in new media curating or museums and galleries

Biopolitical Screens Pasi Valiaho, 2023-08-15 An investigation of the aesthetics and politics of new visual media under twenty first century capitalism from console games to virtual reality to video installation art In Biopolitical Screens Pasi Valiaho charts and conceptualizes the imagery that composes our affective and conceptual reality under twenty first century capitalism Valiaho investigates the role screen media play in the networks that today harness human minds and bodies the ways that images animated on console game platforms virtual reality technologies and computer screens capture human potential by plugging it into arrangements of finance war and the consumption of entertainment Drawing on current neuroscience and political and economic thought Valiaho argues that these images work to shape the atomistic individuals who populate the neoliberal world of accumulation and war Valiaho bases his argument on a broad notion of the image as something both visible and sayable detectable in various screen platforms but also in scientific perception and theoretical ideas After laying out the conceptual foundations of the book Valiaho offers focused and detailed investigations of the current visual economy He considers the imagery of first person shooter video games as tools of neuropower explores the design and construction of virtual reality technologies to treat post traumatic stress disorder in veterans of Iraq and Afghanistan and examines three instances of video installation art that have the power to disrupt the dominant regime of sensibility rather than reinforce it

A Companion to Curation Brad Buckley, John Conomos, 2020-01-29 The definitive reference text on curation both inside and outside the museum A Companion to Curation is the first collection of its kind assembling the knowledge and experience of prominent curators artists art historians scholars and theorists in one comprehensive volume Part of the Blackwell Companion series this much needed book provides up to date information and valuable insights on the field of curatorial studies and curation in the visual arts Accessible and engaging chapters cover diverse contemporary methods of curation its origin and history current and emerging approaches within the profession and more This timely publication fills a significant gap in literature on the role of the curator the art and science of curating and the historical arc of the field from the 17th century to the present The Companion explores topics such as global developments in contemporary indigenous art Asian and Chinese art since the 1980s feminist and queer feminist curatorial practices and new curatorial strategies beyond the museum This unique volume Offers readers a wide range of perspectives on curating in both theory and practice Includes coverage of curation outside of the Eurocentric and Anglosphere art worlds Presents clear and comprehensible information valuable for specialists and novices alike Discusses the movements models people and politics of curating Provides guidance on curating in a globalized world Broad in scope and detailed in content A Companion to Curation is an essential text for professionals engaged in varied forms of curation teachers and students of museum studies and readers interested in the workings of the art world museums benefactors and curators The Tone of Our Times Frances Dyson, 2014-09-26 Sound tone music voice and noise as forms of sonority through which our current economic and ecological crises can be understood In this wide ranging book Frances Dyson examines the role of sound in the development of economic and ecological systems that are today in crisis Connecting early theories of harmony cosmology and theological doctrine to contemporary media and governance Dyson uses sound tone music voice and noise as forms of sonority through which the crises of eco can be read The sonic environment Dyson argues is fundamental to both sense and sensibility and its delimitation has contributed to the senselessness of a world now caught between spiraling debt and environmental degradation Dyson draws on scenes historical moments artworks and artistic and theoretical practice to situate the reverberative atmosphere that surrounds and sustains us From Pythagoras s hammer and the transmutation of music into mathematics to John Cage s famous experience in the anechoic chamber to the relocation of the stock market from the street to the computer screen to Occupy Wall Street s people s microphone Dyson finds policies and practices of exclusion The sound of Pythagoras s forge and the rabble of the market have been muted rearticulated and transformed Dyson argues through the monotones of media the racket of financialization and the gibberish of political speech Informed by contemporary sound art philosophy media and sociopolitical theory The Tone of Our Times offers insights into present crises that are relevant to a broader understanding of how space the aural and listening have shaped and continue to shape the world we live in

The Practice of Light Sean

Cubitt,2014-09-05 An account of Western visual technologies since the Renaissance traces a history of the increasing control of light s intrinsic excess Light is the condition of all vision and the visual media are our most important explorations of this condition The history of visual technologies reveals a centuries long project aimed at controlling light In this book Sean Cubitt traces a genealogy of the dominant visual media of the twenty first century digital video film and photography through a history of materials and practices that begins with the inventions of intaglio printing and oil painting Attending to the specificities of inks and pigments cathode ray tubes color film lenses screens and chips Cubitt argues that we have moved from a hierarchical visual culture focused on semantic values to a more democratic but value free numerical commodity Cubitt begins with the invisibility of black then builds from line to surface to volume and space He describes Rembrandt s attempts to achieve pure black by tricking the viewer and the rise of geometry as a governing principle in visual technology seen in D rer Hogarth and Disney among others He finds the origins of central features of digital imaging in nineteenth century printmaking examines the clash between the physics and psychology of color explores the representation of space in shadows layers and projection discusses modes of temporal order in still photography cinema television and digital video and considers the implications of a political aesthetics of visual technology

Machine Art in the Twentieth Century Andreas

Broeckmann,2016-12-16 An investigation of artists engagement with technical systems tracing art historical lineages that connect works of different periods Machine art is neither a movement nor a genre but encompasses diverse ways in which artists engage with technical systems In this book Andreas Broeckmann examines a variety of twentieth and early twenty first century artworks that articulate people s relationships with machines In the course of his investigation Broeckmann traces historical lineages that connect art of different periods looking for continuities that link works from the end of the century to developments in the 1950s and 1960s and to works by avant garde artists in the 1910s and 1920s An art historical perspective he argues might change our views of recent works that seem to be driven by new media technologies but that in fact continue a century old artistic exploration Broeckmann investigates critical aspects of machine aesthetics that characterized machine art until the 1960s and then turns to specific domains of artistic engagement with technology algorithms and machine autonomy looking in particular at the work of the Canadian artist David Rokeby vision and image and the advent of technical imaging and the human body using the work of the Australian artist Stelarc as an entry point to art that couples the machine to the body mechanically or cybernetically Finally Broeckmann argues that systems thinking and ecology have brought about a fundamental shift in the meaning of technology which has brought with it a rethinking of human subjectivity He examines a range of artworks including those by the Japanese artist Seiko Mikami whose work exemplifies the shift
