Luxury Brand and Art Collaborations Federica Carlotto, 2024-04-11 Over the past decades collaborative initiatives between luxury brands and the art world have been increasing in number and relevance. Albert Capellani Christine Leteux, 2015-12-10 In recent years technology has given films of the silent era and their creators a second life as new processes have eased their restoration and distribution. Among the films benefitting from these developments are the works of director Albert Capellani 1874 1931 whose oeuvre was instrumental in the development of cinema in the early 1900s and whose contributions rival those of D W Griffith. For the first time in English Christine Leteux's essential biography of Capellani offers a detailed assessment of the groundbreaking director. Capellani began his career in France at what was at the time the biggest film company in the world Pathé. There he directed the first multireel version of Les Misérables in 1912 as well as his masterpiece Germinal 1913. After immigrating to the United States Capellani worked at a number of production houses including Metro Pictures Corporation where he produced his two best known films The House of Mirth 1918 and The Red Lantern 1919. He was well known for making stage actors into movie stars and Mistinguett Stacia Napierkowska and Alla Nazimova all rose to prominence under his direction. The ups and downs of Capellani's career paralleled the evolution of the film industry and demonstrated the fickle nature of success. His technical and aesthetic achievements however paved the way for future filmmakers. Featuring a foreword by Academy Award winning film historian Kevin Brownlow Leteux's intimate biography paints a fascinating portrait of one of the leading pioneers of early cinema and provides a new window into the origins of the moving picture.

Bernard, Marie Cresp, Marion Ho-Dac, 2020-12-31 Le droit de la famille dans sa dimension civile est fortement ancoré dans les cultures nationales des Etats membres est une matière qui ne relève pas en principe du droit de l'Union européenne. Pourtant il n'est plus possible d'affirmer que la matière chapeau dans son entier au droit de l'Union. De nombreux aspects de la famille sont sous influence européenne au point que l'on voit se dessiner les contours d'une famille européenne. L'ouvrage propose de mettre en lumière l'acquis européen en matière de droit de la famille au prisme du droit matériel citoyen européen. La politique sociale de l'Union fonction publique européenne comme du droit international privé. Le droit de la famille de l'Union s'identifie alors comme un droit spécial complément à la diversité des droits nationaux de la famille. Sa signification théorique et politique dans l'Union est débattue par les auteurs autant que son devenir. Loin de demeurer fragmentaire, c'est des droits nationaux des Etats membres qu'il a probablement vocation à densifier pour offrir aux citoyens et résidents européens un droit commun de la famille au sein de l'Union.

Family law with its civil law tradition and strong roots in the national cultures of the Member States does not normally fall within the scope of European law. However it is no longer possible to argue that family law is outside European law entirely. There are many aspects of the family which are subject to European influence to the point that the outlines of a European family are starting to emerge. This book is intended to highlight the European experience of family law and its substantive, i.e. European citizenship, EU social policy, EU civil service and private international law aspects. Union law therefore contains a form of special family law which is shared between the Member States and supplements their national family laws. Its theoretical and political importance in the Union as well as its future are discussed by the authors. Far from remaining fragmented alongside the national laws of Member States, it will likely develop to offer European citizens and residents a common family law within the EU.

Two Strategies for Europe Frédéric Bozo, Susan Emanuel, 2002-07-15 This timely book explores the often stormy French-US relationship and the evolution of the Atlantic Alliance under the presidency of Charles de Gaulle 1958-1969. The first work on this subject to draw on previously inaccessible material from US and French archives, the study offers a comprehensive analysis of Gaullist policies toward NATO and the United States during the 1960s, a period that reached its apogee with de Gaulle's dramatic decision in 1966 to withdraw from NATO's integrated military arm. This launched the French policy of autonomy within NATO which has since been adapted without having been abandoned. De Gaulle's policy often has been caricatured by admirers and detractors alike as an expression of nationalism or anti-Americanism. Yet Frédéric Bozo argues that although it did reflect the General's quest for grandeur, it also and perhaps more importantly stemmed from a genuine strategy designed to build an independent Europe and to help overcome the system of blocs Indeed the author contends de GaulleOs actions forced NATO to adapt to new strategic realities Retracing the different phases of de GaulleOs policies Bozo provides valuable insight into current French approaches to foreign and security policy including the recent attempt by President Chirac to redefine and normalize the France NATO relationship As the author shows de GaulleOs legacy remains vigorous as France grapples with European integration a new role within a reformed NATO and relations with the United States
