Southeast Asia in China Ying-kit Chan, Chang-Yau Hoon, 2022-11-28 As part of China's south Southeast Asia has historically assumed a peripheral position when juxtaposed against the power of the Chinese state In the existing scholarly literature the power asymmetry is reflected in the ostensible bias where most studies are about China's presence in or engagement with Southeast Asia rather than the reverse studies on the presence or influence of Southeast Asia in China have been a marginal enterprise The present volume aims to fill this void by exploring the historical entanglements and contemporary engagements of Southeast Asia ns in China through a Southeast Asian perspective As China seeks to understand Southeast Asia's presence in the country on its own terms it is also engaged in a process of self discovery and defining where and how it should stand in relation to the region Departing from the discourse of China as the a priori center dominating the scholarship on China Southeast Asia relations the present volume hopes to subvert such power relations in order to bring fresh perspectives on the historical and contemporary contributions of Southeast Asia ns in China

Economic Success of Chinese Merchants in Southeast Asia Janet Tai Landa, 2016-11-30 This book provides an original analysis of the economic success of Overseas Chinese merchants in Southeast Asia The ethnically homogeneous group of Chinese middlemen is an informal low cost organization for the provision of club goods e g contract enforcement that are essential to merchants success The author s theory and various extensions with emphasis on kinship and other trust relationships draws on economics and the other social sciences and beyond to evolutionary biology Empirical material from her fieldwork forms the basis for developing her unique integrative and transdisciplinary theoretical framework with important policy implications for understanding ethnic conflict in multiethnic societies where minority groups dominate merchant roles Labour Mobility in the Asia-Pacific Region Graeme Hugo, 2003-08-01 Driven by demographic changes and reinforced by intensifying globalization international labour mobility has been on the rise in recent decades in the Asia Pacific region It seems that after trade and investment labour mobility constitutes the final frontier for regional integration among the Asia Pacific economies There is no doubt that labour movements are integral to regional economic integration and critical to the long term health of the regional economies and business operations In reality however such movements are much burdened with political and social problems in the labour origin economies as well as the labour destination economies and yet many of these problems remain not just unaddressed by the relevant governments but not even well studied The present volume seeks to fill this gap by offering synthesis papers stemming from the studies on international labour migration in twenty Asia Pacific economies which were discussed at a joint PECC ABAC conference held in Seoul Korea on 25

26 March 2008 organized by KOPEC These papers examine the demographic transition the associated pattern of international labour migration the national policies associated with it as well as their implications for business and the issues they raise and finally the implications of these analyses for cooperation among the APEC governments for each of the four subregions in the Asia Pacific as well as for the whole region
