Third World Women's Literatures Barbara Fister, 1995-09-14 This reference volume serves as a companion to Third World women's literatures in English and in English translation by presenting entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes What plays have been written by women in the developing world What books have been written by Sri Lankan or Brazilian women Which works address themes of feminism or exile or politics in the Third World These are the types of questions that can now be answered through Fister's companion to Third World women's literatures in English and English translation Organized alphabetically this reference volume presents entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes By providing information about and leads to works by and about Third World women an important and largely marginalized literature Fister has created a unique reference tool that will help teachers scholars and librarians both public and academic expand their definitions of the literary making the voices of Third World women available in the same format in which many companions to Western literature do An important book for all public and college level libraries Women's Studies Quarterly (97:3-4) Tuzyline

Jita Allan,1997 Authoritative creative and groundbreaking original literary essays about an important emerging area of study
English Literature in Context Paul Poplawski,2017-05-18 From Anglo Saxon runes to postcolonial rap this undergraduate textbook covers the social and historical contexts of the whole of the English literature Literary Pan-Africanism

Christel N. Temple,2005 In a critical well researched and illuminating analysis of history and literature this study highlights the dynamics of the relationship between Africans and African Americans since the original separation of the Middle Passage The study emerges at a timely phase as America struggles with its racial heritage its ethnic future and multiculturalism and as people of African descent create new contexts for defining identity in a nation that struggles to embrace Africans who have arrived this time as voluntary migrants BOOK JACKET Changes Ama Ata Aidoo,1993 Changes explores the complex world in which the lives of professional working women have changed sharply but the cultural assumptions of men s lives have not Witty and compelling Aidoo s novel according to Manthia Diawara inaugurates a new realist style in African literature Aidoo writes with intense power in a novel that in examining the role of women in modern African society also sheds light on women s problems around the globe Publishers Weekly starred review Suggested for course use in African literature African studies Family Studies Ama Ata Aidoo one of Ghana s most distinguished writers is the author of two other works of fiction Our Sister Killjoy and No Sweetness Here The Feminist Press as well as plays poems and children s books

Tuzyline Jita Allan is associate professor of English at Baruch College CUNY The Blacker the Ink Frances Gateward,John Jennings,2015-07-16 When many think of comic books the first thing that comes to mind are caped crusaders and spandex wearing super heroes Perhaps inevitably these images are of white men and more rarely women It was not until the 1970s that African American superheroes such as Luke Cage Blade and others emerged But as this exciting new collection reveals these superhero comics are only one small component in a wealth of representations of black characters within comic strips comic books and graphic novels over the past century The Blacker the Ink is the first book to explore not only the diverse range of black characters in comics but also the multitude of ways that black artists writers and publishers have made a mark on the industry Organized thematically into panels in tribute to sequential art published in the funny pages of newspapers the fifteen original essays take us on a journey that reaches from the African American newspaper comics of the 1930s to the Francophone graphic novels of the 2000s Even as it demonstrates the wide spectrum of images of African Americans in comics and sequential art the collection also identifies common character types and themes running through everything from the strip The Boondocks to the graphic novel Nat Turner Though it does not shy away from examining the legacy of racial stereotypes in comics and racial biases in the industry The Blacker the Ink also offers inspiring stories of trailblazing African American artists and writers Whether you are a diehard comic book fan or a casual reader of the funny pages these essays will give you a new appreciation for how black characters and creators have brought a vibrant splash of color to the world of comics Book Review Digest ,2001 Binding Cultures Gay Wilentz,1992-05-22

Wilentz makes convincing arguments for the connections between African and Afro American women's culture. Nellie McKay Wilentz's jargon-free intelligent discussion will appeal to students in African American and women's literature courses as well as general readers interested in the emerging field. Choice Through these works Wilentz demonstrates the powerful transformation possible through understanding and embracing the past even if that past includes oppression and brutalization. Belles Lettres Binding Cultures investigates the cultural bonds between African and African American women writers such as Nigerian Flora Nwapa and Ghanaians Efua Sutherland and Ama Ata Aidoo writers who focus on the role of women in passing on cultural values to future generations and African American writers Alice Walker Toni Morrison and Paule Marshall who self-consciously evoke African culture to help create a more integrated African American community.

MLA International Bibliography of Books and Articles on the Modern Languages and Literatures, 2007 The Humanities Ron Blazek, Elizabeth Smith Aversa, 2000 Covering nearly 1 400 information sources this book maps the vast terrain of knowledge in humanities studies. Detailed annotations give users an in-depth view of the sources and thorough indexes provide easy access. Web resources are included on a highly selective basis. The number of information sources and the diversification of formats are revolutionizing library and scholarly practice. While accessing information is easier, evaluation of resources has become increasingly more difficult. Covering a broader territory and more sources than previous editions this book offers an up-to-date reliable guide to nearly 1 400 of the most important and representative information sources in the immense discipline of humanities studies. Following the basic organization of previous editions Blazek and Aversa present chapters on sources, reference tools and access ways to find and retrieve information for each subject covered, e.g. language and literature, philosophy, visual arts. For the first time the authors have included web resources and their URLs on a highly selective basis. All sources have been reviewed, updated and in many cases expanded. Computerized databases both online and CD-ROM are integrated with the books. Detailed annotations give users an in-depth Ghanaian Theatre James Gibbs, 1995 Literature of Developing Nations for Students Elizabeth Bellalouna, Michael L. LaBlanc, 2000 Contains alphabetically arranged entries that examine over fifty works of literature from developing nations, each with an introduction to the work and its author, a plot summary, descriptions of important characters, analysis of important themes, a critical overview and other information. Book Review Index, 1980-09 African-American Literature Paul Q. Tilden, 2003 Having its origins in the slave narratives and the folktales transmitted orally during that period, the literature of the African American has been rich and varied. Beginning with the first published work of fiction Clotel or the President's Daughter in 1853, continuing under the influence of W. E. B. Du Bois during the first part of this century and reaching a flowering during the Harlem Renaissance, major contributions have been made to American literature. Today African American writers such as Toni Morrison, Alex Haley and Maya Angelou are recognised as among the most significant and popular authors in this country. This new book presents an important overview of African American literature as well as a comprehensive
