Succeeding Postmodernism Language And Humanism In Contemporary American Literature:

Succeeding Postmodernism Mary K. Holland, 2013-04-25 While critics collect around the question of what comes after postmodernism this book asks something different about recent American fiction what if we are seeing not the end of postmodernism but its belated success Succeeding Postmodernism examines how novels by DeLillo Wallace Danielewski Foer and others conceptualize threats to individuals and communities posed by a poststructural culture of mediation and simulation and possible ways of resisting the disaffected solipsism bred by that culture Ultimately it finds that twenty first century American fiction sets aside the postmodern problem of how language does or does not mean in order to raise the reassuringly retro question of what it can and does mean it finds that novels today offer language as solution to the problem of language Thus it suggests a new way of reading antihumanist late postmodern fiction and a framework for understanding postmodern and twenty first century fiction as participating in a long and newly enlivened tradition of humanism and realism in literature

Fictions of Proximity Tim Person, 2023-11-02 Fictions of Proximity Skepticism

Romanticism and the Wallace Nexus tells the story of a nexus of contemporary novelists around David Foster Wallace who took up the legacy of logical positivism and reworked it between the 1980s and the 2000s in a way that has affinities with romanticism The book shows how the writers of this Wallace nexus use fiction's complexities to challenge the idea that in human interactions only complete fusion and transparency may count as instances of knowing In place of this positivistic ideal of absorption the book offers the freshly defined concept of proximity a closeness with separateness It reads key novels of contemporary Anglo American literature as fictions of proximity i e as texts that dramatize problematize and enact the movement into this position of proximity To tell this story the book draws on unpublished archival materials and understudied connections advancing new interpretations of four novelists David Foster Wallace David Markson Bret Easton Ellis and Zadie Smith Fictions of Proximity provides new readings of these writers both of their canonical texts and of lesser known works and situates them with respect to prominent figures in contemporary post positivist philosophy

Rewriting Early America Christopher K. Coffman, 2018-11-27 Recent poems and fictions set in the early Americas are typically read as affirmations of cultural norms as evidence of the impossibility of genuine engagement with the historical past or as contentious repudiations of received histories Inspired particularly by Mihai Spărișu s arguments regarding literary playfulness as an opening to peace Rewriting Early America The Prenatal Past in Postmodern Literature adopts a different perspective with the goal of demonstrating that many recent literary texts undertake more constructive and hopeful projects with regard to the American past than critics usually recognize While honoring writers pervasive critiques of hegemony this volume trades a preoccupation with antagonism for an interest in restoration and recuperation It describes how texts by John Barth John Berryman Susan Howe Toni Morrison Paul Muldoon Thomas Pynchon and William T Vollmann harness the ambiguities of the colonial past to find sociocultural possibilities that operate beyond the workings of power and outside the politics of difference Throughout this book remains devoted to uncovering the moments at which contemporary writers proffer visions of American communities defined not by marginalization and oppression but by responsive understanding and inclusion

David Foster

Wallace's Balancing Books Jeffrey Severs, 2017-01-03 What do we value Why do we value it And in a neoliberal age can morality ever displace money as the primary means of defining value These are the questions that drove David Foster Wallace a writer widely credited with changing the face of contemporary fiction and moving it beyond an emotionless postmodern irony Jeffrey Severs argues in David Foster Wallace's Balancing Books that Wallace was also deeply engaged with the social political and economic issues of the twentieth and twenty first centuries A rebellious economic thinker Wallace satirized the deforming effects of money questioned the logic of the monetary system and saw the world through the lens of value's many hidden and untapped meanings In original readings of all of Wallace's fiction from The Broom of the System and Infinite Jest to his story collections and The Pale King Severs reveals Wallace to be a thoroughly political writer whose works provide an often surreal history of financial crises and economic policies As Severs demonstrates the concept of value occupied the intersection of Wallace's major interests economics work metaphysics mathematics and morality Severs ranges from the Great Depression and the New Deal to the realms of finance insurance and taxation to detail Wallace's quest for balance and grace in a world of excess and entropy Wallace showed characters struggling to place two feet on the ground and restlessly sought to balance the books of a chaotic culture Explaining why Wallace's work has galvanized a new phase in contemporary global literature Severs draws connections to key Wallace forerunners Don DeLillo Thomas Pynchon and

William Gaddis as well as his successors including Dave Eggers Teddy Wayne Jonathan Lethem and Zadie Smith interpreting Wallace's legacy in terms of finance the gift and office life Postmodernism, Twenty-First Century Culture, and American Fiction Matt Graham, 2024-07-19 Postmodernism's end is a complex and contentious topic Yet one overarching consensus emerges the postmodern has been surpassed This book poses a thought experiment challenging this position what if postmodernism persists within the twenty first century Rather than designate a new epoch or coherent movement this book interrogates the fragmented contradictory and counterintuitive endurance of postmodern aesthetics within post Cold War America An alternative use of postmodern aesthetics becomes possible when they are decoupled from their twentieth century historical location Collectively these repetitions posit a postmodern continuum contrasting the widely called for succession of postmodernism via this decoupling When postmodern aesthetics are no longer unconsciously repeated within their cultural moment this emergent shift within a period after postmodernism presents an alternative historical positioning and use After their cultural vanguard postmodern aesthetics become a confrontation of the chaotic realism of an inescapable post Cold War capitalism tapping into this cultural zeitgeist through literature Divinity, Hospitality and the Posthuman in 21st-Century Literature Emily McAvan, 2024-10-17 What does it feel like to experience the sacred today Examining in detail many of this century's most significant writers including Margaret Atwood Salman Rushdie Elizabeth Strout Marilynne Robinson Mohsin Hamid Michael Chabon Howard Jacobson and Don DeLillo Divinity Hospitality and the Posthuman in 21st Century Literature The Material Sacred argues that contemporary social and cultural forms most especially those of 21st century literature are marked by what Emily McAvan calls a material sacred Placing Christian Jewish and Muslim writers in conversation with the new materialisms this book shows how secular and sacred mix unpredictably in contemporary writing In this important contribution to the understanding of religion materialism and literature McAvan maps new territory arguing that the material sacred shows us that the human and non human the divine and the profane have been interwoven from the start

Authorship's Wake Philip Sayers, 2020-12-10 Authorship's Wake examines the aftermath of the 1960s critique of the author epitomized by Roland Barthes's essay The Death of the Author This critique has given rise to a body of writing that confounds generic distinctions separating the literary and the theoretical Its archive consists of texts by writers who either directly participated in this critique as Barthes did or whose intellectual formation took place in its immediate aftermath These writers include some who are known primarily as theorists Judith Butler others known primarily as novelists Zadie Smith David Foster Wallace and yet others whose texts are difficult to categorize the autofiction of Chris Kraus Sheila Heti and Ben Lerner the autotheory of Maggie Nelson These writers share not only a central motivating question how to move beyond the critique of the author subject but also a way of answering it by writing texts that merge theoretical concerns with literary discourse Authorship's Wake traces the responses their work offers in relation to four themes communication intention agency and labor Nature and Narrative Markku Lehtimäki, 2025-05-23 The book explores environmental issues in twenty first century Anglophone fiction and how those issues are dealt with by specific literary means It proposes a reciprocal relationship between nature and narrative the idea according to which nature both informs and inspires artistic creations while literary designs and rhetoric also shape our ideas and perceptions of the natural environment It is argued that in order to address design and rhetoric in environmental texts we need a close analysis of those world shaping functions of literary narratives that unite ecocritical and narratological interests The author presents readings of contemporary novels and their varying ways of seeing nature through narrative devices and fictional minds The novels discussed in the book are Hilary Mantel s Wolf Hall Toni Morrison s A Mercy Ian McGuire s The North Water Barbara Kingsolver s The Lacuna Paul Harding s Tinkers and Enon J M Coetzee s Elizabeth Costello Ian McEwan s Solar and Jenny Offill s Weather

The Matter of High Words Robert Chodat,2017-08-18 In a world of matter how can we express what matters When the explanations of the natural sciences become powerfully precise and authoritative what is the status of our highest words the languages that articulate our norms and orient our lives The Matter of High Words examines a constellation of American writers who in the decades since World War II have posed these questions in distinctive ways Walker Percy Marilynne Robinson Ralph Ellison Stanley Cavell and David Foster Wallace are all self consciously post WWII authors attuned to the fragmentation and skepticism that have defined so much of the literary and critical culture of the last century and more Yet they also attempt to reach back to older forms of thought and writing that are often thought to have dried up the traditions of prophecy of wisdom literature of the sage Working within this dual inheritance these authors are drawn equally to both art and argument showing and telling shifting continually between narrative and discursive genres In their essays they act as moralists promoting the broad abstract concepts that might inspire action in the face of naturalistic reduction community family courage fraternity marriage friendship temperance judgment In their narratives they offer particular lives in particular settings thick descriptions that give flesh to such high words Rarely do these movements between genres generate a tidy equilibrium where their essays speak of cooperation and redemption their narratives display alienation loss and failure But in pursuing such risky unorthodox strategies these postwar sages are not only able to challenge some of the dominant naturalistic theories of the last several decades cognitive science neo Darwinian theory social science the fact value divide in analytic philosophy Through five chapters of detailed analysis and close reading Chodat explores the question of whether vocabularies of ought and ought not can still emerge today and how these concepts might be embodied and whether such ideas might be found in things
