A Practical Guide to Successful Construction Projects Arent van Wassenauer, 2017-04-21 Written by experienced and innovative projects lawyer Arent van Wassenauer this book explains what the critical success factors are for construction projects to be completed on time within everyone's budget to the right quality with all stakeholders satisfied and without disputes. In so doing, van Wassenhaer discusses how such projects could be structured, tendered, executed and completed, and what legal and non-legal mechanisms are available to achieve success in construction projects. Using examples of real projects, A Practical Guide to Successful Construction Projects provides tools for those in leading and managerial positions within the construction industry to change where necessary their usual operational methods into methods which are aimed at achieving project success.

The Successful Construction Supervisor and Foreman Paul Netscher, 2019-03-22 Construction is desperate for good experienced, skilled and dedicated supervisors and foremen. Construction needs you. Being a construction supervisor or foreman is challenging; it's hard work, but it's also rewarding, watching projects take shape under your watch. A supervisor's job is never boring; every day is different, each project is different, different locations and different people, all presenting new challenges. A construction foreman, foreperson or supervisor supervises a work crew or manages a section of work. They're at the coalface of every construction project, the critical link in the construction process. Good foremen and supervisors are essential to the success of every construction project, and every construction company, indeed, they're invaluable. Yet few managers and supervisors are prepared to mentor and train the next generation of supervisors and foremen. Most supervisors and foremen have years of experience on the tools, learning their trade sometimes through apprenticeships but mostly learning from others. These skills are focused on a particular trade or skill. But being a supervisor is a different ballgame. Where before, as a trades person, they were doing the work themselves, now as supervisors they must organise and manage others doing the work. I'm a construction professional with 30 years of experience and the author of several acclaimed construction books, including Successful Construction Project Management: The Practical Guide and Construction Management From Project Concept to Completion. As a young engineer and later as project manager, I was fortunate to learn from many excellent supervisors and foremen. I wouldn't have achieved what I did without the foremen on my projects. They were the powerhouse on my construction projects, and I only had to steer the project to a successful conclusion. Now it's my turn to share my 30 years of construction experience and knowledge with construction supervisors and foremen. To explain why things are done in a certain way, why good paperwork is essential, but more importantly, to help supervisors and foremen become the very best.

Determinants of Construction Project Success in India Kumar Neeraj Jha, 2014-07-08 This study presents exploratory work and seeks to identify and evaluate the success and failure factors that could form a guideline for further study and to some extent help professionals to understand some critical aspects that impact project performance concerning construction in India A total of 55 attributes affecting the performance of construction projects are analysed in terms of their level of influence on four key performance criteria schedule cost quality and no disputes using a two stage questionnaire survey These attributes are then further analysed interpreted and evaluated Based on the critical success factors obtained from the study a neural network model based predictive model for project performance has been developed The performance prediction models have been derived for all four project performance criteria Further a hypothesis that project success is influenced by success traits has also been formulated The hypothesized positive inter relationships between success traits and project success have been tested using the structural equation modelling technique Besides supporting the intuition of past researchers in recognizing coordination as a key success factor this study has revealed that coordination is not an isolated and independent activity but is a typical management function with an inherent role in all major management activities Key elements affecting coordination have also been identified and their influence on coordination effort has been studied Furthermore the present study has also identified three broad skill groups required of effective project coordinators The results are validated through case studies of live projects and structured interviews with experts in the field of construction management
