Marshall's organization is a nationally prominent nonprofit think-tank. The organization was founded in 1950, under the name National Defense Education Act, and as the National Defense Education Act (NDEA) was the first federal law to provide federal aid to higher education. The organization's mission is to provide research and policy analysis on education, and to provide information and resources to the public. The organization's research is based on the belief that education is the key to a better future, and that the government has a responsibility to ensure that all children have access to a quality education. Household expenditures across the border generally fell throughout 2011. But persistent unemployment and economic downturns in neighboring countries are expected to hit personal budgets hard in 2012, with the cost of the debt ceiling and repeat quarterly tax adjustments and stimulus reductions also reducing household spending and further slowing budget stimulus. Although the negative impact of the stimulus on expenditure is not expected to be as large this year, most pay raises and other gains in the personal budget are expected to be spent on consumption rather than saving.

Multi-Sector Engagement Initiatives is currently only implemented in countries where there is a significant number of stakeholders. It is used for projects that need to address the concerns of various interest groups that spanned multiple ministries and institutions in the government. This approach allows the government to be more effective in addressing the needs of the public and to ensure that the government is more responsive to the needs of the public.
