A Guide to Global Mental Health Practice Craig L. Katz, Jan Schuetz-Mueller, 2015-05-01 Drawing on the authors' experience in developing and implementing global mental health programs in crisis and development settings, A Guide to Global Mental Health Practice: Seeing the Unseen is designed for mental health, public health, and primary care professionals new to this emerging area. The guide is organized topically and divided into four sections that move from organizing and delivering global mental health services to clinical practice and from various settings and populations likely to be encountered to special issues unique to global work. Case studies based around a central scene are threaded throughout the book to convey what global mental health work actually involves. Mental health professionals of all backgrounds, including social workers, nurses, nurse practitioners, psychologists, and psychiatrists, as well as public health professionals and community-level medical professionals and mental health advocates, will benefit from this engaging primer. It is the book for anyone committed to addressing mental health issues in a low-resource or crisis-hit setting, whether international or domestic.

Perioperative and Critical Care Medicine A. Gullo, G. Berlot, 2012-12-06 by S. GUASCHINO Dean Trieste University School of Medicine The society we live in is in continual development and has a number of priorities for improving the standards of communication. The scientific sector in particular thrives on the exchange of information, which is the foundation of progress itself. The channels through which this interaction takes place are many and are aimed at optimizing teaching methodology. Researchers and scholars, research centres, and the places of higher learning themselves are increasingly aware of the growing importance of universities, which, thanks to their intrinsic ability to renew themselves, have taken on a vital, central, and propulsive role. Communication develops as a result of free exchange, debate of the materials available, and the study of the various references and analysis sources. With the advent of information systems the teaching methodology has assumed a decisive role both in terms of the quantity of data available and the quality of the information Distance learning is a new and important opportunity for the immediate future The Anaesthesia and Critical Care School of Trieste has promoted this interesting and highly relevant initiative by drawing together teaching material from the academic year 2003 2004 Numerous international lecturers have contributed to this valuable achievement In addition a large part of the material is the fruit of a real consortium between the various Italian Schools of Anaesthesia
