combat trauma casualties b Historical data shows that 90% of combat wound fatalities die on the battlefield before reaching a military treatment facility This fact illustrates the importance of first responder care at the point of injury c TCCC was originally a US Special Operations research project which was composed of trauma management guidelines focusing on casualty care at the point of injury d TCCC guidelines are currently used throughout the US Military and various allied countries e TCCC guidelines were first introduced in 1996 for use by Special Operations corpsmen medics and pararescue PJs f The TCCC guidelines are currently endorsed by the American College of Surgeons Committee on Trauma and the National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians The guidelines have been incorporated into the Prehospital Trauma Life Support PHTLS text since the 4th edition STUDENT CURRICULUM Tactical Combat Casualty Care CLS Overview Identify Medical Fundamentals Manage Hemorrhage Maintain Casualty Airway Manage Penetrating Chest Injuries Manage Hemorrhagic Shock Manage Burn Casualties Perform Splinting Techniques Administer Battlefield Medications Perform Casualty Movement Perform Combat Lifesaver Triage Perform Combat Lifesaver Care FIELD MEDICAL SERVICE TECHNICIAN STUDENT HANDBOOK VERSION 4.1 With Block 1 & 2 Student Outlines And Visual Presentations , Over 2 300 total pages OVERVIEW Tactical Combat Casualty Care TCCC was developed to emphasize the need for continued improvement in combat pre hospital care The Committee on Tactical Combat Casualty Care CoTCCC was established in 2001 and is part of the Defense Health Board CoTCCC is a standing multi service committee charged with monitoring medical developments in regards to practice technology pharmacology and doctrine New concepts in hemorrhage control airway management fluid resuscitation analgesia antibiotics and other lifesaving techniques are important steps in providing the best possible care for our Marines and Sailors in combat The TCCC guidelines are published every 4 years in the Prehospital Trauma Life Support manual It has been recognized that TCCC guidelines and curriculum will need to change more often than the 4 year cycle of the PHTLS textbook publication The National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians NAEMT will include the updated TCCC guidelines and curriculum on its website as they are approved as a way to help get this new information out to the combat medical personnel in the military that need it PRINCIPLES OF TACTICAL COMBAT CASUALTY CARE TCCC The principles of Tactical Combat Casualty Care are fundamentally different from those of traditional civilian trauma care where most medical providers and medics train These differences are based on both the unique patterns and types of wounds that are suffered in combat and the tactical conditions medical personnel face in combat Unique combat wounds and tactical conditions make it difficult to determine which intervention to perform at what time Besides addressing a casualty s medical condition responding medical personnel must also address the tactical problems faced while providing care in combat A medically correct intervention at the wrong time may lead to further casualties Put another way good medicine may be a bad tactical decision which can get the rescuer and the casualty killed To successfully navigate these issues medical providers must have skills and training oriented to combat trauma care as opposed to civilian trauma care The specifics of casualty care in the tactical setting will depend on the tactical situation the injuries sustained by the casualty the knowledge and skills of the first responder and the medical equipment at hand In contrast to a hospital Emergency Department setting where the patient IS the mission on the battlefield care of casualties sustained is only PART of the mission TCCC recognizes this fact and structures its guidelines to accomplish three primary goals 1 Treat the casualty 2 Prevent additional casualties 3 Complete the mission In thinking about the management of combat casualties it is helpful to divide care into three distinct phases each with its own characteristics and limitations PHTLS--Pre-Hospital Trauma Life Support National Association of Emergency Medical Technicians (U.S.). Handbook for EMS medical directors , Trauma Operative Procedures G. Berlot,H. Delooz,A. Gullo,2012-12-06 Trauma has assumed a prominent role in contemporary medicine as an event that can significantly influence clinical variables such as morbidity functional deficits and consequential disability and mortality Trauma is the principal cause of death in the population below 40 years of age in industrialized countries Therefore there is great interest in studying traumatic events from both the clinical and epidemiological viewpoints The importance of trauma is exemplified by the fact that in many countries the trauma patient is first treated in specialized trauma centers in which the diagnostic and treatment processes are facilitated by the 24 hour presence of personnel having interdisciplinary competencies Trauma in this context consists of any acute often unexpected condition Many of the medical difficulties associated with trauma occur in a relatively brief period that spans from the first call for help to the initiation of first aid measures A correct approach depends on the availability of experienced personnel The first measures of aid must guarantee above all the patient's survival The most critical initial phases of care to trauma patients are represented by the triad first aid triage and transport Specific morbidity indices whether anatomical functional or mixed are indispensable elements for monitoring a patient's clinical evolution The immediate availability of essential drugs is imperative to confront the clinical situations that often present in the acute post traumatic phase
