The Art of Teaching Science Jack Hassard, Michael Dias, 2013-07-04 The Art of Teaching Science emphasizes a humanistic experiential and constructivist approach to teaching and learning and integrates a wide variety of pedagogical tools Becoming a science teacher is a creative process and this innovative textbook encourages students to construct ideas about science teaching through their interactions with peers mentors and instructors and through hands on minds on activities designed to foster a collaborative thoughtful learning environment This second edition retains key features such as inquiry based activities and case studies throughout while simultaneously adding new material on the impact of standardized testing on inquiry based science and explicit links to science teaching standards Also included are expanded resources like a comprehensive website a streamlined format and updated content making the experiential tools in the book even more useful for both pre and in service science teachers Special Features Each chapter is organized into two sections one that focuses on content and theme and one that contains a variety of strategies for extending chapter concepts outside the classroom Case studies open each chapter to highlight real world scenarios and to connect theory to teaching practice Contains 33 Inquiry Activities that provide opportunities to explore the dimensions of science teaching and increase professional expertise Problems and Extensions On the Web Resources and Readings guide students to further critical investigation of important concepts and topics An extensive companion website includes even more student and instructor resources such as interviews with practicing science teachers articles from the literature chapter PowerPoint slides syllabus helpers additional case studies activities and more Visit <http://www.routledge.com/textbooks/9780415965286> to access this additional material

Building Networks for Critical and Altruistic Science Education John Lawrence Bencze, 2025-05-22 This edited volume provides theory based accounts often with practical examples of how educators from various jurisdictions in elementary secondary and tertiary formal education contexts as well as community based situations have helped students critically evaluate the relationships among science technology STEM society and the environment The goal is to develop and implement personal and sociopolitical actions to address concerns Collectively the perspectives and examples in the chapters form an expanding Foucauldian dispositif countering hegemonic mechanisms that favor a few elites at the expense of the wellbeing of most other living and nonliving things Many accounts draw on the STEPWISE project illustrating how a biotic and symbolic actants have been progressively assembled to promote more critical and altruistic citizenship The Subject Curriculum: Grades K-12 Morton Alpren, 1967 Science for All Americans F. James Rutherford, Andrew Ahlgren, 1991-02-14 In order to compete in the modern world any society today must rank education in science mathematics and technology as one of its highest priorities It s a sad but true fact however that most Americans are not scientifically literate International studies of educational performance reveal that U S students consistently rank near the bottom in science and mathematics The latest study of the National Assessment of Educational Progress has found that despite some small gains recently the average performance of seventeen year olds in 1986 remained substantially lower than it had been in 1969 As the world approaches the twenty first century American schools when it comes to the advancement of scientific knowledge seem to be stuck in the Victorian age In Science for All Americans F James Rutherford and Andrew Ahlgren brilliantly tackle this devastating problem Based on Project 2061 a scientific literacy initiative sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science this wide ranging important volume explores what constitutes scientific literacy in a modern society the knowledge skills and attitudes all students should acquire from their total school experience from kindergarten through high school and what steps this country must take to begin reforming its system of education in science mathematics and technology Science for All Americans describes the scientifically literate person as one who knows that science mathematics and technology are interdependent enterprises with strengths and limitations who understands key concepts and principles of science who recognizes both the diversity and unity of the natural world and who uses scientific knowledge and scientific ways of thinking for personal and social purposes Its recommendations for educational reform downplay traditional subject categories and instead highlight the connections between them It also emphasizes ideas and thinking skills over the memorization of specialized vocabulary For instance basic scientific literacy means knowing that the chief function of living cells is assembling protein molecules according to the instructions coded in DNA molecules but does not mean necessarily knowing the terms ribosome or deoxyribonucleic acid Science mathematics and technology will be at the center of the radical changes in the nature of human existence that will occur during the next life span therefore preparing today s children for tomorrow s world must entail a solid education in these areas Science for All Americans will help pave the way for the necessary reforms in America s schools Resources in Education ,1998 ENC Focus ,2001
