South Africa's Post-Apartheid Military Lindy Heinecken, 2020-01-01 This timely book examines how the South African National Defence Force has adapted to the country's new security political and social environment since 1994 In South Africa's changed political state how has civilian control of the military been implemented and what does this mean for defence in a democracy This book presents an overview of the security environment how the mission focus of the military has changed and the implications for force procurement force preparation force employment and force sustainability The author addresses other issues such as the effect of integrating former revolutionary soldiers into a professional armed force the effect of affirmative action on meritocracy recruitment and retention military veterans looking at the difficulties they face in reintegrating back into society and finding gainful employment gender equality and mainstreaming the rise of military unions and why a confrontational instead of a more corporatist approach to labour relations has emerged HIV AIDS and the consequences this holds for the military in terms of its operational effectiveness In closing the author highlights key events that have caused the SANDF to become lost in transition and transformation spelling out some lessons learned The conclusions she draws are pertinent for the future of defence security and civil military relations of countries around the world

Reforming Civil-Military Relations in New Democracies Aurel Croissant, David Kuehn, 2017-03-20 This book addresses the challenge of reforming defense and military policy making in newly democratized nations By tracing the development of civil military relations in various new democracies from a comparative perspective it links two bodies of scholarship that thus far have remained largely separate the study of emerging or failed civilian control over armed forces on the one hand and work on the roots and causes of military effectiveness to guarantee the protection and security of citizens on the other The empirical and theoretical findings presented here will appeal to scholars of civil military relations democratization and security issues as well as to defense policy makers

Silencing the Guns in Africa Antonio Garcia, Jacob Udo-Udo Jacob, 2025-03-14 The scholarship of this book is drawn from local and international experts by framing critically a number of discourses on matters of security conflict violence and peace on the African continent It is indeed a breath of fresh air to the scientific community largely because it contributes to the on going debates on security issues Dr Ntsikelelo Benjamin Breakfast Director of the Center for Security Peace and Conflict Resolution at Nelson Mandela University This book makes a deep contribution to scholarly literature on conflict studies peacekeeping and peacebuilding in Africa Written largely from the perspective of the applied social sciences it is empirically rich and offers refreshing insights into social behaviour in military contexts This is a timely contribution because current public discourse in South Africa is centred on the gains and missed opportunities of thirty years of democracy and new lenses are welcome Many of the chapters reflect South African experiences This is to be welcomed as it demonstrates that scholars and practitioners from the country are reflecting on the complexities of South African experiences of defence and security matters in contemporary times Dr Sandy Africa Director of Research at Mapungubwe Institute for Strategic Reflection MISTRA This volume brings together the voices of scholars and practitioners a diverse group of writers who are passionate about and committed to creating a safer more prosperous and peaceful Africa Each with their own specialism this work combines many different world views and approaches Conflict in Africa is an impossibly broad topic to cover in a single edited publication and so we focus on a select number of case studies expositions and themes

South Africa and United Nations Peacekeeping Offensive Operations Garcia, Antonio, 2018-08-16 The creation of the Force Intervention Brigade FIB as the sharp tactical edge of the United Nations Stabilisation Mission in the Democratic Republic of the Congo MONUSCO tasked with the neutralising of armed groups was a watershed moment in the history of modern peace missions What was more significant was that sub Saharan national leaders were instrumental in the creation of the FIB South Africa Tanzania and Malawi but lacked the resources to deploy such a force and consequently the brigade was deployed under the banner of the UN With the legacy of an African Renaissance and its role in the conception of the FIB South Africa remains a critical player in international peace and security in sub Saharan Africa and therefore holds a key strategic role in achieving the FIB s objectives This comes at a critical time where blue helmets are increasingly exposed to complex and challenging security contexts The aim of this work is to provide a conceptual model for South African military future operations and UN offensive peacekeeping operations In this undertaking a layer of military and Clausewitzian theory is added to offensive peacekeeping operations Furthermore there are sections on operational constructs capstone and operating concepts doctrine and structural elements as well a section on mine action This book contributes towards an understanding of the nature of modern strategy through the lens of UN offensive peacekeeping operations and provides insights into operational challenges

Integration of State-of-art Techniques for Landslide Hazard Assessment and for the Mitigation Caused by the Subsequent Multimodal Disaster Yih-Chin Tai, Norifumi Hotta, Chih-Yu Kuo, Marc-Henri Derron, Rou-Fei Chen, 2022-10-07

African Borders, Conflict, Regional and Continental Integration Inocent Moyo, Christopher Changwe Nshimbi, 2019-04-25 This book looks at the ways African borders impact war and conflict as well as the ways continental integration could contribute towards cooperation peace and well being in Africa African borders or borderlands can be a source of problems and opportunity There is often a historical geospatial and geopolitical architecture rooted in trajectories of war conflict and instability which could be transformed into those of peace regional and continental integration and development An example is the cross border and regional response to the Boko Haram insurgency in West Africa This book engages with cross border forms of cooperation and opportunity in Africa It considers initiatives and innovations which can be put in place or are already being employed on the ground within the current regional and continental integration projects Another important element is that of cross border informality which similarly provides a ready resource that if properly harnessed and regulated could unleash the development potential of African borders and borderlands Students and scholars within Geography International Relations and Border Studies will find this book useful It will also benefit civil society practitioners policymakers and activists in the NGO sector interested in issues such as migration social cohesion citizenship and local development

The Routledge Handbook of Civil-military Relations Thomas C. Bruneau, Florina Cristiana Matei, 2013 The Routledge Handbook of Civil Military Relations not only fills this important lacuna but offers an up to date comparative analysis which identifies three essential components in civil military relations 1 democratic civilian control 2 operational effectiveness and 3 the efficiency of the security institutions This Handbook will be essential reading for students and practitioners in the fields of civil military relations

Apartheid's Black Soldiers Lennart Bolliger, 2021-10-01 New oral histories from Black Namibian and Angolan troops who fought in apartheid South Africa s security forces reveal their involvement and its impact on their lives to be far more complicated than most historical scholarship has acknowledged In anticolonial struggles across the African continent tens of thousands of African soldiers served in the militaries of colonial and settler states In southern Africa they often made up the bulk of these militaries and in some contexts far outnumbered those who fought in the liberation movements armed wings Despite these soldiers significant impact on the region s military and political history this dimension of southern Africa s anticolonial struggles has been almost entirely ignored in previous scholarship Black troops from Namibia and Angola spearheaded apartheid South Africa s military intervention in their countries respective anticolonial war and postindependence civil war Drawing from oral history interviews and archival sources Lennart Bolliger challenges the common framing of these wars as struggles of national liberation fought by and for Africans against White colonial and settler state armies Focusing on three case studies of predominantly Black units commanded by White officers Bolliger investigates how and why these soldiers participated in South Africa s security forces and considers the legacies of that involvement In tackling these questions he rejects the common tendency to categorize the soldiers as collaborators and traitors and reveals the un national facets of anticolonial struggles Finally the book s unique analysis of apartheid military culture shows how South Africa s military units were far from monolithic and instead developed distinctive institutional practices mythologies and concepts of militarized masculinity

Climate Security in the Anthropocene Judith Nora Hardt, Cameron Harrington, Franziskus von Lucke, Adrien Estève, Nicholas P. Simpson, 2023-05-20

The speed and scale of climate change presents unique and potentially monumental security implications for individuals future generations international institutions and states Long dominant security paradigms and policies may no longer be appropriate for dealing with these new security risks of the Anthropocene In response to this phenomenon this book investigates how states have reacted to these new challenges and how their different understandings of the climate security nexus might shape global actions on climate change It focuses on the perceptions framings and policies of climate security by members of the United Nations Security Council UNSC the world s highest ranking multilateral security forum Empirically the book presents detailed bottom up case studies from local authors of every UNSC member state in 2020 It combines this with an innovative theoretical approach spanning national human and ecological security that helps to capture the complex dynamics of state led approaches to dealing with security in the Anthropocene This book therefore offers readers a compelling picture of climate security politics in the UNSC beyond Council debates and resolutions By comparing and contrasting how different framings of climate security impact various policy sectors of members states the authors are able to assess the barriers and opportunities for addressing climate security locally and globally This timely contribution to the literature on climate security examines the under analysed relationship between the policy approaches of key countries at the national and at the international level Policy alignment at multiple levels of governance will be critical if we are to respond adequately to the ubiquitous challenges posed by climate change and variability Shirley Scott Head of School and Professor School of Humanities and Social Sciences UNSW Canberra at the Australian Defence Force Academy Australia Climate change is increasingly considered a problem of security yet what that means remains deeply contested Behind the rhetoric of climate crisis threats and emergencies UN Security Council members offer profoundly different ideas about what climate change and security mean and what should be done about it This book brilliantly lays out the hidden or overlooked divergences of interests and perspectives on climate security that are playing out in the world s most central security institution as it grapples with securing a climate unstable world Olaf Corry Professor of Global Security Challenges Faculty of Social Sciences School of Politics and International Studies University of Leeds United Kingdom Security is a contested concept whose scope and direction are subject to change The prime value of this volume is the systematic documentation of the dynamics in defining what security is about in reaction to ever dramatic climate change The book s focus on a somewhat representative sample of states the members of the Security Council provides robust evidence that even though many governments remain reluctant to retreat from traditional perceptions of security there is a large and growing acceptance of the need to adjust priorities in providing security in response to climate change and its consequences Michael Brzoska Professor and Senior Research Fellow IFSH Institute for Peace Research and Security Policy Universit t Hamburg Germany The climate security literature has often been labelled as West centric with little recognition of knowledge production processes and different historical socio economic and political experiences of various societies in the Global South This book goes beyond the conventional approaches to provide a whole range of perspectives on climate security reflective of diverse contextual realities covering factors such as development imperatives conflict dynamics postcolonial legacies institutional actor complexities and geopolitical contestations among others By focusing on the climate security approaches of various countries case studies at the domestic and international levels the applicability of existing climate security frameworks or lack thereof in the context of these case studies is brilliantly brought out by the chapters This book weaves together these diverse perspectives by providing a comprehensive overview of climate security related policies of countries from both Global South and Global North and their positions on climate change and security in the UNSC They reflect the varying norms interests priorities and challenges that continue to shape the climate security agenda within the UNSC as well as non UNSC platforms This book is a must read for anyone interested in gaining an in depth and invigorating understanding of the evolution of distinct climate security discourses and practices in varying contexts Dhanasree Jayaram Assistant Professor Department of Geopolitics and International Relations Manipal Academy of Higher Education MAHE India Research Fellow Centre Marc Bloch Climate Security in the Anthropocene provides a timely and compelling account of the conceptualizations of the climate security nexus and their implications By considering climate security through the lenses of national human and ecological security it provides a sophisticated account of the different dimensions involved in the UNSC debates and beyond The collection of chapters illustrating the positions of the members of the UN Security Council in 2020 not only provide an informative account but also sheds light on the challenges that the UNSC faces in dealing with climate change Maria Julia Trombetta Associate Professor in Politics and Environment School of International Studies Institute of Asia and Pacific Studies University of Nottingham Ningbo China China The book Climate Security in the Anthropocene is the first systematic assessment of climate security decision making and governance of the UN Security Council It is groundbreaking as it combines empirical bottom up case studies of perceptions and policies of different ministries and governmental agencies of UNSC member states with a novel theoretical framework contrasting different security framings and conceptions in the Anthropocene Discussing various policy sectors the study assesses barriers and opportunities and provides novel insights on multi scale responses and interactions in the climate security nexus from local to global levels connecting individuals future generations international institutions and states The book is highly recommendable for everyone interested in the emerging field of policy oriented climate security research J rgen Scheffran Professor for Integrative Geography Head of the Research Group Climate Change and Security CLISEC Center for Earth System Research and Sustainability Universit t Hamburg Germany This volume provides multifocal insights into the climate security nexus combining critical security studies and international relations theories in the age of the Anthropocene Analyzing the perceptions policies and positions of 15 UN Security Council member states this thought provoking piece demonstrates how national security human security and ecological security have advanced as conceptual innovations Offering a rich and diverse range of empirical case studies this piece is a strong contribution to academic discourse and teaching alike Franziska M ller Junior Professor for Political Science Faculty of Business Economics and Social Sciences Universit t Hamburg Germany

Theorizing Local Migration Law and Governance Moritz Baumgärtel, Sara Miellet, 2022-09-22 In many regions around the world the governance of migration increasingly involves local authorities and actors This edited volume introduces theoretical contributions that departing from the local turn in migration studies highlight the distinct role that legal processes debates and instruments play in driving this development Drawing on historical and contemporary case studies it demonstrates how paying closer analytical attention to legal questions reveals the inherent tensions and contradictions of migration governance By investigating socio legal phenomena such as sanctuary jurisdictions it further explores how the law structures ongoing processes of re scaling in this domain Beyond offering conceptual and empirical discussions of local migration governance this volume also directly confronts the pressing normative questions that follow from the growing involvement of local authorities and actors This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Southern Africa's Blue Economy Donald L. Sparks, 2023-05-18 Southern Africa s maritime interests are considerable its oceans and ports are essential to the wealth of the region are crucial for trade and are an important source of employment food and energy However regional governments do not place sufficient attention on the Blue Economy and its potential to stimulate economic growth Of the 17 UN Sustainable Development Goals goal Number 14 Life Below Water is the least funded Less than 1% of Official Development Assistance goes toward this goal and even private investment and funding from philanthropic organizations is grossly inadequate to meet Africa s blue economy needs It is vital for the international community to face up to the challenges of Africa s Blue Economy and start working on solutions and for southern Africa s Blue Economy policies and goals to be expanded Just as sustainable development green initiatives show promise so too could Blue Economy projects and activities Southern Africa s rich coastal and marine resources need to be managed on both a national and regional level if they are to be used in a long term sustainable way This book provides for the first time a concise study of the constraints and opportunities that the Blue Economy offers for southern Africa and the role that the Southern African Development Community SADC could play in
