Development in Africa Theo Neethling, Heidi Hudson, 2013-10-01 Some of the bloodiest conflicts occur on the African continent An Afrocentric perspective is therefore a suitable starting point for research into the possible strategies for post conflict peacebuilding The authors of this book consider the problems around the concept of post conflict and the blurring of military and civilian roles analysing the UN roles in the DRC and Sierra Leone as well as the African Union Mission in Burundi The main context of the book however is the South African Army s strategy for PCRD in Africa which was developed with the African Union s 2006 Post Conflict Reconstruction and Development Needs Assessment Guide in mind This book emanates from this plan It therefore also explores South Africa s policy imperatives to integrate development projects and peace missions involving the military as well as civilian organisations While this book is not intended as an instruction manual it hopes to ignite an understanding of the particular processes required to develop a sustainable and cohesive post conflict peacebuilding strategy within the African environment Youth In South Africa Ariane De Lannoy, Malose

Langa, 2021-05-05 South Africa is characterised by a youthful population and the challenges and possibilities that characterise the young generation are both warning signs and beacons of hope for a nation founded on social justice Youth in South Africa Agency in visibility and national development takes stock of the nation s development as it affects young people Authors offer both personal and professional insights into the ways in which the youth navigate their own pathways to adulthood These include formal and informal engagements with politics as well as protest un employment entrepreneurship education religion experiences with sexuality and violence and a multitude of other life experiences Contributors paint a picture of the initiative agency and resilience of the youth as well as the challenges before them Authors also identify the state of waithood faced by those unable to make the transition out of youth into full adulthood as a result of their socio economic circumstances and political context By engaging these experiences and insights and primarily informed by the inputs of young people the authors highlight the limitations of existing youth policies and frameworks The case is made for policy instruments to be informed by the lived experiences of the youth as they navigate a complex macrosocial environment and by the messages the youth communicate about the limitations of current approaches Amnesty After Atrocity?

Helena Cobban, 2015-11-17 A compelling read Richard J Goldstone former Chief Prosecutor of the UN tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda A very important contribution Princeton N Lyman Council on Foreign Relations A powerful reminder that dealing with the legacy of wartime atrocities is not simply a matter of bringing perpetrators to justice It also means overcoming the divisions within the society and healing the victims Marina Ottaway Senior Associate Democracy and Rule of Law Project Carnegie Endowment for International Peace In Amnesty after Atrocity veteran journalist Helena Cobban examines the effectiveness of different ways of dealing with the aftermath of genocide and violence committed during intergroup conflicts She traveled to Rwanda Mozambique and South Africa to assess the various ways those nations tried to come to grips with their violent past from war crimes trials to truth commissions to outright amnesties for perpetrators She discovered that in terms of both moving forward and satisfying the needs of survivors war crimes trials are not the most effective path This book provides historical context and includes interviews with a cross section of people community leaders victims policymakers teachers rights activists and even some former abusers These first person accounts create a rich readable text and Cobban s overall conclusions will surprise many readers in the West      COVID-19 and a World of Ad Hoc Geographies Stanley D. Brunn, Donna Gilbreath, 2022-09-15 This book provides an interdisciplinary overview of the causes and impacts of COVID 19 on populations economies politics institutions and environments from all world regions The book maps the causes effects and impacts of the virus and describes the impact of the virus on among others health care teaching and learning travel tourism daily life local and regional economies media impacts elections and indigenous populations and much more Contributions to this book come from the humanities social and policy science disciplines as well as from emerging transdisciplinary fields including climate change sustainability health care and epidemiology security art visualization economic and social well being law and borderland studies As such this book will be a rich source of information to all those geographers social scientists and urban and regional planners working in this field
