chronicle of an American Rabbi s struggle to keep the faith of his congregation Chicago Tribune Journalist Paul Wilkes spent a year with Rabbi Jay Rosenbaum of Congregation Beth Israel in Worcester Massachusetts He silently observed the Rabbi s life and work got to know his congregation and listened in as he performed the myriad tasks both spiritual and practical that occupy a Rabbi's long day Wilkes quickly learned that Rabbi Rosenbaum is an extraordinary individual a spiritual leader deeply committed to his congregation a Jewish scholar steeped in ancient tradition and an American man too familiar with the temptations of secular society Wilkes watched as Rabbi Rosenbaum worked with unyielding confidence and nearly constant frustration to draw his conservative congregation into more than just intermittent observance This fascinating thought provoking book is at once an intimate portrait of a year in a Rabbi's life and a vivid account of the state of American Judaism today 100 Places that Can Change Your Child's Life Keith Bellows,2013-02-05 A planner for travel to learn about the world Placemaking with Children and Youth Victoria Derr,Louise Chawla,Mara Mintzer,2018-09-18 An illustrated essential guide to engaging children and youth in the process of urban design From a history of children's rights to case studies discussing international initiatives that aim to create child friendly cities Placemaking with Children and Youth offers comprehensive guidance in how to engage children and youth in the planning and design of local environments It explains the importance of children's active participation in their societies and presents ways to bring all generations together to plan cities with a high quality of life for people of all ages Not only does it delineate best practices in establishing programs and partnerships it also provides principles for working ethically with children youth and families paying particular attention to the inclusion of marginalized populations Drawing on case studies from around the world in Australia New Zealand Canada India Puerto Rico the Netherlands South Africa and the United States Placemaking with Children and Youth showcases children's global participation in community design and illustrates how a variety of methods can be combined in initiatives to achieve meaningful change The book features more than 200 visuals and detailed thoughtful guidelines for facilitating a multiplicity of participatory processes that include drawing photography interviews surveys discussion groups role playing mapping murals model making city tours and much more Whether seeking information on individual methods and project planning interpreting and analyzing results or establishing and evaluating a sustained program readers can find practical ideas and inspiration from six continents to connect learning to the realities of students lives and to create better cities for all ages Interpreting Slavery with Children and Teens at Museums and Historic Sites Kristin L. Gallas,2021-09-26 Interpreting Slavery with Children and Teens offers advice examples and replicable practices for the comprehensive development and implementation of slavery related school and family programs at museums and historic sites Developing successful experiences school programs field trips family tours about slavery is more than just historical research and some hands on activities Interpreting the history of slavery often requires offering students new historical narratives and helping them to navigate the emotions that arise when new narratives conflict with longstanding beliefs We must talk with young people about slavery and race as it is not enough to just talk to them or about the subject By engaging students in dialogue about slavery and race they bring their prior knowledge scaffold new knowledge and create their own relevance all while adults hear them and show respect for what they have to say The book's framework aims to move the field forward in its collective conversation about the interpretation of slavery with young audiences acknowledging the criticism of the past and acting in the present to develop inclusive interpretation of slavery When an organization commits to doing school and family programs on the topic of slavery it makes a promise to past and future generations to keep alive the memory of long silenced millions and to raise awareness of the racist legacies of slavery in our society today The complete guide of etiquettes
