 - B) an introvert.
 - C) an unstable person.
 - D) both a. and c.
6. Trait theory attempts to:
 - A) show how development of personality is a lifelong process.
 - B) describe and classify people in terms of their predispositions to behave in certain ways.
 - C) determine which traits are most conducive to individual self-actualization.
 - D) explain how behavior is shaped by the interaction between traits, behavior, and the environment.
7. Which of the following is a major criticism of the social-cognitive perspective?
 - A) It focuses too much on early childhood experiences.
 - B) It focuses too little on the inner traits of a person.
 - C) It provides descriptions but not explanations.
 - D) It lacks appropriate assessment techniques.
8. Which of the following was not mentioned in the text as a criticism of Freud's theory?
 - A) The theory is sexist.
 - B) It offers few testable hypotheses.
 - C) There is no evidence of anything like an "unconscious."
 - D) The theory ignores the fact that human development is lifelong.
9. James attributes his failing grade in chemistry to an unfair final exam. His attitude exemplifies:

UGC NET Management (Paper-II) Study Notes , Personality Assessment in the DSM-5 Steven K. Huprich, Christopher J. Hopwood, 2014-10-29 The DSM 5 promises to be a major reformulation of psychopathology and no section is likely to change diagnostic practice more than that of personality pathology Unlike the DSM IV the DSM 5 personality disorders will be conceptualized as involving core deficits in interpersonal and self functioning and will utilize a hybrid assessment model involving both pathological trait dimensions and a limited set of personality disorder types. These changes are based on empirical and theoretical work conducted during the era of DSM III IV but nevertheless there is significant disagreement among personality assessors regarding the DSM 5 proposal. In this volume several members of the DSM 5 work group offer rationales for the proposal and offer empirical evidence regarding suggested changes and several personality assessment researchers critique the proposal and offer alternative conceptualizations. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Personality Assessment.

Handbook of Assessment in Childhood Psychopathology Cynthia L. Frame, Johnny L. Matson, 2013-11-21 One of the most important practical problems in child psychology and psychiatry is the differential diagnosis of emotional disorders. Until recently the general mode of assessment had been to apply to children the characteristics of psychopathology that were evident in adults. In addition there had been few assessment tools available for use with children aside from modified versions of adult instruments. Understandably this approach was controversial and dissatisfaction with it led to the more recent knowledge that adult and child problems may be manifested quite differently. The third edition of the Diagnostic and Statistical Manual of Mental Disorders takes these factors into account much more extensively than previous editions. Furthermore a great deal of research on methodology in child assessment procedures has emerged recently. Yet in spite of these advances practicing clinicians are still frequently at a loss in moving from the characteristics of the disturbed child before them to the final assignment of a psychiatric diagnosis. The focus of this book is to outline the various methods of viewing and categorizing the wide range of childhood psychopathology with special emphasis on the end product of making a differential diagnosis. Our goal was to make this book unique in several ways. First we attempted to cover a wider range of disorders than is typical in currently available handbooks.
