It's important to identify the specific skills that are needed for the job. For example, if you're hiring for a sales position, you might want to look for someone with strong communication skills, a proven track record of sales success, and the ability to work independently. Once you've identified the key skills, you can then look for candidates who have those skills. This might involve reviewing resumes, conducting interviews, or even using assessment tools. The goal is to find the best person for the job, not just the most qualified person on paper.
