

The book cover features a whimsical, hand-drawn illustration. At the top, a dark blue band contains several yellow, multi-pointed stars of varying sizes. Below this, a large, stylized sun with a human-like face (eyes, nose, and a slight smile) is positioned on the right side. The sun has long, flowing rays that extend across the sky. The sky is a light blue with fine, radiating lines. On the left side, a large, leafy tree with a brown trunk stands prominently. The ground is depicted with rolling hills and a small village with several houses and a church with a tall steeple. The overall style is reminiscent of a children's book or a vintage poster.

chronic diseases have disrupted this vital function leading to the breakdown of our natural building system. The Western version of Covid treatment mainly revolves around killing the virus with little focus on the inner organ relationships. It prioritizes vaccines and treating symptoms rather than understanding the root cause of the disease. On the other hand, Eastern medicine examines why certain individuals are more susceptible to infections and focuses on optimizing damaged organs to create an environment where the virus cannot thrive. It utilizes treatments such as acupuncture, Japanese Tiny Moxibustion, and herbal remedies. Though scientific proof may be lacking, historical medical practices from traditions like Ayurvedic and TCM emphasize the importance of oxygen and air in the healing process. This book aims to provide insights into how our body system can effectively fight against the virus, regenerate the lymphatic system, and improve 5 organ health. It combines perspectives from both Western and Eastern medicine to give a comprehensive viewpoint. Additionally, it addresses the importance of the lymphatic system, the theory of invisible forces, the role of oxygen, and the treatment of chronic pain and undiagnosed diseases using Eastern medicine. The book highlights the significance of the 5 organ energy balance, linking it to one's genetic makeup and overall health.
