Rife, 2023-01-09 Between 2007 and 2014 a Greek American team investigated an impressive array of Early Roman to Early Byzantine buildings and burials on the Koutsongila Ridge at Kenchreai the eastern port of ancient Corinth This volume presents the project s final results revealing abundant evidence not only for the history of activity in a transitional urban suburban landscape but also for the society economy and religion of local residents Important structural and mortuary discoveries abound including a district of lavish houses with exquisite mosaic pavement and an Early Christian Octagon The large artifactual assemblage encompasses a variety of objects from pottery and lamps to glass coins and jewelry Bones and teeth from over 200 individuals illustrate differences in health over time while thousands of bones and shells from a variety of animals attest to diet and subsistence This study paints a picture of a Corinthian community small but prosperous and well connected actively participating in an urban elite culture expressed through decorative art and monumental architecture

The Routledge Handbook of the Bioarchaeology of Human Conflict Christopher Knüsel, Martin Smith, 2013-12-17 If human burials were our only window onto the past what story would they tell Skeletal injuries constitute the most direct and unambiguous evidence for violence in the past Whereas weapons or defenses may simply be statements of prestige or status and written sources are characteristically biased and incomplete human remains offer clear and unequivocal evidence of physical aggression reaching as far back as we have burials to examine Warfare is often described as senseless and as having no place in society Consequently its place in social relations and societal change remains obscure The studies in The Routledge Handbook of the Bioarchaeology of Human Conflict present an overview of the nature and development of human conflict from prehistory to recent times as evidenced by the remains of past people themselves in order to explore the social contexts in which such injuries were inflicted A broadly chronological approach is taken from prehistory through to recent conflicts however this book is not simply a catalogue of injuries illustrating weapon development or a narrative detailing progress in warfare but rather provides a framework in which to explore both continuity and change based on a range of important themes which hold continuing relevance throughout human development Kavousi IV Leslie Preston Day, Maria A. aim of this thesis is to offer a politico theoretical explanation for the historical development of the New Left and why the red decade between 1967 and 1976 77 ended so abruptly Within this context the thesis will focus on the Maoist K Gruppen and particular emphasis will be placed on the Marxistische Gruppe which defied the general decline of West Germany s New Left and developed into its largest organisation during the 1980s Furthermore the Red Cells movement will be analysed from which both currents emerged in the wake of the student movement In conclusion this thesis will reveal that the influence of politico theoretical aspects on the historical development of the New Left has been given too little consideration and that the New Left s fate cannot be adequately explained by external factors but demands the consideration of the very development of theories and the practical conclusions organisations reached regarding their social economic and cultural circumstances This work will be the first to provide an insight into the potential of such a theoretical explanation for an understanding of the specific developments of the post 1968 West German New Left
