Collaborative Research in Fisheries Peter Holm, Maria Hadjimichael, Sebastian Linke, Steven Mackinson, 2020-02-24 This book is about the ongoing transition of fisheries governance from top down command and control towards a more transparent and participatory form It focuses on the emergence of research practices and advice frameworks that allow co creation of common knowledge bases for management Drawing from 8 years of research in GAP a two stage 7th framework EU project the book offers a critical examination of how knowledge practices in fisheries governance are changing The entry point for this research is a series of practical experiments in the uncharted terrain of collaborative research To gain insight into the ongoing transition in European fisheries management GAP initiated and carried out 13 Case Studies in different settings across Europe In each case study a team of fishers and marine scientists worked together to identify plan and implement research projects intended to make a difference The cases vary They take on different management issues and shape the collaborations in different ways The extent to which they succeed in realizing their objectives also differs They are all contributing important insights into the possibilities of co creating knowledge for management purposes The book delves into the individual experiences of each case study as well as the lessons they contribute as a whole The examination concludes that while research partnerships are not always easy to establish they are an important step towards better fisheries governance Without a common knowledge base for fisheries governance co created through collaborative research practices sustainable fisheries will remain out of reach General Fisheries Council for the Mediterranean (GFCM) Report of the Seventeenth Session ,1985-04-16 Report of the National Workshop on Micro-Enterprise Development in Coastal Communities in the Philippines Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2007-01-01 The goals of the National Workshop on Micro enterprise Development in Coastal Communities in the Philippines were to exchange experiences and good practices and to identify financial and institutional support services and facilities to sustain livelihoods and micro enterprise development in coastal areas The workshop was attended by 45 participants from people s organizations fisherfolk cooperatives non governmental organizations national government agencies and financing institutions The discussions at the workshop showed that livelihood diversification and the improvement of income and employment opportunities in coastal fishing communities are crucial for their participation in the conservation and management of aquatic resources Key elements of sustainable micro enterprise development as identified by the workshop include capability building of fisherfolk organizations such as cooperatives and associations to implement livelihood projects the preparation of feasibility studies and business plans technical skills development sound financial management practices development of innovative and high quality products access to new markets including urban and regional markets and the full participation of fisherfolk in the identification of livelihood activities and micro enterprises The Pilot Project in Support of the Development of Micro enterprises in Banate Bay Iloilo and Southern Iloilo was implemented by the University of the

Philippines in the Visayas in cooperation with the Banate Bay Resource Management Council Inc and the Southern Iloilo Coastal Resource Management Council with support from FAO A number of microenterprises were introduced and supported in the municipalities of Banate Bay and Southern Iloilo including fish ball production shrimp paste production oyster and mussel culture salt production and iodization fish marketing and fish sauce production Training programmes were conducted for fisherfolk on product development and marketing of their products Good coordination with local government units active participation of all stakeholders and conduct of appropriate training programmes are considered essential for the sustainability of the micro enterprises The involvement of fisherfolk in livelihood activities and micro enterprises is strengthening their participation in the fisheries and aquatic resources management councils of Banate Bay and Southern Iloilo The experiences of the pilot project also suggest that in order to make various income generating livelihood initiatives sustainable and stand on their own feet many of these need to develop further into full fledged micro enterprises Considerable scope lies in farming of aquatic organisms such as seaweed shellfish and various fish species as well as in fisheries related value adding activities such as fish processing and marketing As far as the relationship between the conservation of aquatic resources and the generation of income is concerned the quality of the aquatic environment and the economic success of mariculture micro enterprises and activities are directly related This should create a strong motivation for fisherfolk entrepreneurs involved in such type of enterprises to be strong advocates and stewards of a healthy coastal ecology In the long term fisherfolk will benefit from the development of various micro enterprise initiatives It is clearly in their interest

Subcommittee on Water and Power,1998 Evaluating Water Projects Per-Olov Johansson,Bengt Kriström,2013-04-08 Should more water be diverted to or from electricity generation This timely question is addressed in this short volume Two different approaches are introduced and compared The first is a cost benefit analysis examining the case of re regulating a Swedish hydropower plant in which water is diverted from electricity generation to the downstream dryway The proposed scenario generates environmental and other benefits but comes at a cost in terms of lost electricity The second study introduces an approach very different from the one used in conventional cost benefit analysis and provides a set of measures designed so that most if not all affected parties will be better off Thus in contrast to a conventional cost benefit analysis which draws on hypothetical compensation measures the new approach envisages actual compensation Comparing two different theoretical frameworks on the basis of a real world case this study can be seen as a manual that can be used to evaluate reasonably small re regulation of rivers
