

Partnership Agreement/Letter of Acceptance

This agreement sets forth the guidelines and requirements. As a partner with The Fuller Center for Housing, it is your responsibility to adhere to these policies in order to continue in the program and ultimately own your own Fuller Center home.

Sweat Equity Hours

One of the primary responsibilities of the homeowner candidate is to complete a total of 350 sweat equity hours in order to become a Fuller Center homeowner.

Sweat equity hours can be fulfilled entirely by you but we strongly encourage you to recruit friends, co-workers, and family member to help you fill your sweat equity quota. The Fuller Center will not pay you or your helpers for sweat equity hours in the event you decide to leave The Fuller Center for Housing partnership or your application is otherwise terminated.

In order to meet the monthly sweat equity requirement, homeowner candidates will be provided with, the opportunities to work as a volunteer with The Fuller Center for Housing and any other pre-approved non-profit agency. One hundred and fifty hours of the 350 hours of sweat equity, must be completed by the applicants and those living in the home on the application. It is understood that unless I have completed the 350 hours I will not be able to move in.

Homeowner candidates are required to work a minimum of 25 hours of sweat equity per month in order to remain eligible for The Fuller Center for Housing's program. Failure to complete this requirement could result in termination of your application. A sweat equity tracking book will be provided to record your hours. Take this book with you every time you work. The hours work must be dated, signed, and verified by the supervisor. You will not be credited for work unless it is documented on your book. It is your responsibility to keep your book current and in your possession.

aspects of a contractor's business reviews the commercial and contractual management of a construction project and provides detailed and practical information on running a project from commencement through to completion. Today's Quantity Surveyor (QS) plays an essential role in the management of construction projects although the exact nature of the role depends on who employs the QS. The QS engaged by the client and the contractor's QS have different parts to play in any construction project with the contractor's QS role extending beyond traditional measurement activities to encompass day to day tasks of commercial building activities including estimating, contract administration and construction planning as well as cost and project management. This updated and practical guide focuses on the application knowledge and training required of a modern Quantity Surveyor. Clearly shows how Quantity Surveying plays an essential central role within the overall management of construction projects. Covers measurement methodology, the key elements of the contractor's business and the commercial and contractual management of a construction project. The construction industry changes at fast pace meaning the quantity surveyor has a key role to play in the successful execution of construction projects by providing essential commercial input. Construction Quantity Surveying meets this demand as an up to date practical guide that includes the information needed for a Quantity Surveyor to perform at the highest level. It clearly demonstrates that quantity surveying is not limited to quantifying trade works and shows it as an important aspect of commercial and project management of construction projects.
