

TEACHER'S GUIDE

Differentiating Instruction

Quicker Coverage

Eliminate TP33 from the Experiential Exercise Students complete three archaeological digs for this activity to mimic ones that occurred in 1900, TP33, and 2004. To save to time, consider cutting the TP33 dig. Although this dig introduces another language that existed in ancient Persia, eliminating it will not undermine student understanding of how new discoveries change our knowledge of ancient cultures.

omit the Preview Activity Eliminate the Preview activity and move immediately to the Experiential Exercise of the presentation.

Deeper Coverage

Create a Timeline Have students create a timeline of ancient Persia, beginning with the basic peoples. The timeline should cover empires, major figures, and events. Some details in the text are discussed in terms of empire or ruler rather than date. Students should place these details accordingly.

English Learners

Have Students Work with a Peer on Reading Notes Pair students with more proficient readers of English. Have them record all the information together on one copy of the Reading Notes. After the activity photocopy the Reading Notes so that each student has a copy.
