

DEAR PARENT,

We all want our children to be prepared for success in the real world. Yet even though 94% of parents say they want their kids to go to college, today only 29% of Illinois high school students will ever earn a 2- or 4-year degree. Also, jobs in Illinois are going unfilled because employers can't find workers with the skills they need in a modern economy.

Our children must graduate with the skills they need to be successful. That's why 45 states, including Illinois, are raising the bar for kids by adopting the Common Core State Standards.

The Common Core focuses on REAL LEARNING FOR REAL LIFE. These new learning standards are designed to create clear, consistent expectations for what all students should learn to prepare them for college and career.

THE NEW COMMON CORE STANDARDS ARE:

Math and English Language Arts learning standards for kindergarten to 12th grade, with more subjects in development

Higher, clearer, deeper and based on what students must learn to succeed in college and modern careers

Creating the same expectations for all students so families can understand exactly what every student should be learning

Emphasizing skills students will need for the modern workplace: collaboration, critical thinking, communication and creativity

Built upon strengths and lessons from the highest-performing states and countries

Tager, 2017-03-27 Challenging the normative paradigm that school readiness is a positive and necessary objective for all young children this book asserts that the concept is a deficit based practice that fosters the continuation of discriminatory classifications Tager draws on findings of a qualitative study to reveal how the neoliberal agenda of school reform based on high stakes testing sorts and labels children as non ready affecting their overall schooling careers Tager reflects critically on the relationship between race and school readiness showing how the resulting exclusionary measures perpetuate the marginalization of low income Black children from an early age Disrupting expected notions of readiness is imperative to ending practices of structural classism and racism in early childhood education The Big6 Curriculum Michael B.
