

Third Grade Narrative Writing Rubric

	3	2	1	0
Introduction 3.W.3a	I clearly introduce a situation (problem/ event/ adventure), a narrator, setting, and characters.	I begin to introduce a situation (problem/ event/ adventure), narrator, characters, and setting, but it isn't fully clear who everyone is, what is happening, or where we are.	I write an introduction but it doesn't introduce a situation, narrator, characters, and setting.	I do not write an introduction.
Sequence and Conclusion 3.W.3 and 3.W.3c	My narrative is told in order and has a clear beginning, middle, and end. I correctly used paragraphs to separate my beginning, middle, and end.	My narrative events are mostly told in order but it isn't always easy to tell what is the beginning, middle, and end. I used paragraphs, but they weren't all used to correctly separate my beginning, middle, and end.	My narrative events are mostly in order and it is very unclear where the beginning, middle, and end are. I do not use paragraphs.	I do not write a narrative.
Details 3.W.3b	I use dialogue, and descriptions of actions, feelings, and thoughts to develop experiences, events, or responses to situations.	I use a lot of descriptions of actions, but could use more dialogue, feelings, and thoughts to develop my narrative.	I use descriptions of actions but do not use dialogue, feelings, or thoughts.	I did not write a narrative.

Imagining Transmedia Ed Finn, Bob Beard, Joey Eschrich, Ruth Wylie, 2024-04-23 How the blurring of media forms transmedia became the default for how we experience narratives and how that cultural transformation has redefined the worlds of education entertainment and our increasingly polarized public discourse Over the past decade the power of narrative has been unleashed with awesome and terrifying consequences and it has been consumed in its blurred media forms by millions of people as news entertainment and education Imagining Transmedia edited by Ed Finn Bob Beard Joey Eschrich and Ruth Wylie explores the surprising ways that narratives working across media forms became the default grammar for both media consumption and personal expression and how multiplatform storytelling creates new media literacies and modes of civil discourse Understanding this shift reveals transmedia as an essential building block of media literacy today Transmedia is how we create interpret and participate in our increasingly mediated society It extends beyond popular culture into professional and public spheres while at the same time it fuels the misinformation and polarization that have contributed to America s fraying civic discourse Reaching beyond traditional academic analyses this probing collection of essays and conversations features transmedia practitioners sharing their experiences and inviting readers to imagine the types of multimodal stories and experiences they might create Prioritizing conversation over a single unified theory each section of this volume pairs thematically linked essays from international contributors with a dialogue between authors to create an accessible practical synthesis of ideas
