Student Exploration: Ray Tracing (Mirrors)

Vocabulary: concave mirror, convex mirror, focal point, magnification, real image, reflect, virtual image

Prior Knowledge Questions (Do these BEFORE using the Gizmo.)

For these questions, it would be helpful to have a metal spoon on hand. If you don't have one, try to imagine looking at yourself in a spoon.

1. Look at yourself in the front of the spoon (the side where the food sits). What do you see?

When I looked at the front of the spoon my face appeared to be inverted because the spoon is concave.

The front of a spoon is an example of a concave mirror.

2. What do you see when you look at yourself in the back of a spoon? When I look at the back of the spoon my face is not inverted but it is stretched upwards due to it being convex.

The back of a spoon is an example of a convex mirror.

Gizmo Warm-up

The Ray Tracing (Mirrors) Gizmo shows a side view of a light bulb positioned to the left of a mirror. Light rays passing from the light bulb to the mirror are shown.

To begin, select the Concave mirror. Turn on Colorize lines. Under Show lines, turn off the Central line and the Line through focal point so that only the Parallel line is showing.

1. The blue dot in front of the mirror is the focal point of the mirror. Move the light bulb on the left around. What is always true about the ray that is reflected from the parallel ray?

The ray that is reflected always stays parallel to x-axis no matter where the light bulb is placed.

2. Turn off the Parallel line and turn on the Line through focal point. Move the light bulb around. What do you notice about the reflected ray in this situation?

The reflected ray stayed parallel to the x-axis even when it was being moved around, and it also stayed perpendicular to the y-axis.

literature shows furthermore that what students do is quite distinct from what experts do While many have used these results as a starting point for teaching students how to be expert the author has chosen instead to ask about the interrelationship between expert and novice practice seeing them both as two sides of the same project a cultural historical professionalization project aimed at establishing and preserving the professional privilege The consequences of this professionalization project are examined using the discipline of academic philosophy as the site for the author s investigations Methodologically unique these investigations combine rhetorical analysis protocol analysis and the analysis of classroom discourse The result is a complex portrait of how the participants in this humanistic discipline use their academic literacy practices to construct and reconstruct a great divide between expert and lay knowledge This monograph thus extends our current understanding of the rhetoric of the professions and examines its implications for education University Catalog University of Northern
