The Texas State Flag

Each state in the United States has its own flag. This flag acts as a symbol that represents the state. The first version of the Texas flag was adopted in 1839 when Texas was an independent country. It was solid blue with a gold star in the middle. When Texas became a state in 1845, the flag changed to one used today.

The Texas flag has one red stripe and one white stripe. On the left side, there is blue rectangular section. There is one white star in the center of the blue area. Texas is often called the "Lone Star State" because of the single star on its flag. The single, lone star represents Texas' independent spirit.
