Strength and Tenacity: Research on Reputation Building of Chinese State-Owned Enterprises in the U.S. Tian Xiangning,2022-07-24 The state owned enterprises SOEs play important roles in China s going global strategy and their reputation is closely related to China s national image This book examines the reputation of Chinese SOEs from the perspective of communication Based on the total corporate communications approach this book suggests that corporate reputation is affected by a three part system process Meanwhile the book regards institutional environment as underlying factors in the process Focusing on the U S market this book conducts case studies on two representative enterprises China Construction America and China Railway Rolling Stock America Corporation Results show that the two enterprises have developed different reputation effects but faced similar problems On the one hand the institutional power of the U S has effects on media coverage trends which poses a challenge for Chinese SOEs to establish legitimacy On the other hand

Chinese SOEs are lack of initiative in reputation building making it difficult to create comprehensive reputation systems Based on above analysis the book proposes a model of reputation building for overseas Chinese SOEs Hopefully it may provide references for academic exploration and corporate practices

Family Involvement in Children's Education Janie E. Funkhouser, Miriam R. Gonzales, 1997 Schools that are most successful in engaging parents and other family members in support of their children s learning look beyond traditional definitions of parent involvement parent teacher organizations or signing report cards to a broader conception of supporting families in activities outside of school that can encourage their children s learning This idea book is intended to assist educators parents and policy makers as they develop school family partnerships identifying and describing successful strategies used by 20 local Title I programs Following an executive summary the book notes resources for involving families in education includes research supporting such partnerships and describes how Title I encourages partnerships Next the book describes successful local approaches to family involvement in education organized around strategies for overcoming common barriers to family involvement including 1 overcoming time and resource constraints 2 providing information and training to parents and school staff 3 restructuring schools to support family involvement 4 bridging school family differences and 5 tapping external supports for partnerships Finally the book presents conclusions about establishing and sustaining partnerships noting that at the same time that successful partnerships share accountability specific stakeholders must assume individual responsibility and that those schools that succeed in involving large numbers of parents invest energy in finding solutions for problems not excuses Four appendices present profiles of 10 successful partnerships descriptions in table format of 20 successful local approaches contact information for profiled partnership programs and resources for building successful partnerships Contains 13 references
