When Loss Gets Personal Michelle M. Falter, Steven T. Bickmore, 2018-11-23 When Loss Gets Personal considers how secondary English language arts teachers and teacher educators can sensitively and thoughtfully teach pieces of literature in their classrooms in which death is a significant if not central aspect of the texts. Death is something that affects all people young and old yet it is rarely discussed openly in classrooms despite its prevalence in texts read in ELA classrooms. Whether it is canonical or contemporary literature, middle grades or young adult literature, fiction, nonfiction, or graphic novels, literature provides a vehicle to have difficult but needed conversations about personal deaths such as cancer, accidents, suicide, etc. Each chapter in this book focuses on 1-2 texts and provides practical activities that ask students to engage with the loss through writing assignments, projects, activities, and discussion prompts in order to build empathy, understanding, and develop critically minded and engaged students. When Loss Gets Personal will be of interest to English language arts teachers, teacher educators, librarians, and scholars who wish to explore with their students the complex emotions that revolve around discussing deaths that occur in literature. Using Literature to Help Troubled Teenagers Cope with Health Issues

Cynthia Ann Bowman, 2000-03-30 Today traditional illnesses and high risk behaviors of adolescents have become interrelated through the multitude of physical, social, and emotional changes young people experience. Good literature which gives adolescents the truth has incredible power to heal and to renew. This reference resource provides a link for teachers, media specialists, parents, and other adults to those novels that can help adolescents struggling with health issues. Educators and therapists explore novels where common health issues are addressed in ways to captivate teens. Using fictional characters, these experts provide guidance on encouraging adolescents to cope while improving their reading and writing skills. With the advancement in medicine, traditional types of health issues such as birth defects, cancer, and sensory impairment have shifted to more behavior-related problems such as depression, alcoholism, and eating disorders. All of these issues and others are examined from both a literary and psychological perspective in thirteen chapters that explore health issues through fiction. Each chapter confronts a different health issue and is written by a literature specialist who has teamed up with a therapist. In each novel, these experts define the central character's struggle in coming to terms with an issue and growing in response to their difficulties. Annotated bibliographies of other works, both fiction and nonfiction, explore these same issues, give readers insight into helping teenagers with similar problems, and provide the tools with which to get teenagers reading and addressing these problems.

Tiger Lessons Sannapureddy Venkatarami Reddy, 2025-06-03 A young man trained to be an engineer finds himself herding his family's sheep up in the hills one summer and trying to survive the jungle. Ravi comes from a golla family but his father and brother have worked to make sure he does not have to live the sheep herding life. The physical labour is hard on Ravi but the menace of the wild is harder. He is terrified of the forest and its denizens. Sleep eludes him at night; every little sound, a tiger lurking nearby, every root or vine, a slithering python. He freezes on the spot when a hyena attacks the sheep offering his neck to the animal without a fight Everything he knows and believes is violently put to test when a tiger begins to hunt his herd Tiger Lessons paints in marvellous detail the entangled world of the shepherds their sheep and the beings they meet while tracing Ravi's journey through the forest of his fears Expanding the Foundation Steven T.
