It also reveals placemaking's potential to nurture a holistic community engagement, social justice, and human-centric urban environments. Section Three looks at the politics of placemaking to consider who is included and who is excluded from its practice and if the concept of placemaking needs to be reconstructed. Section Four deals with the scales and scopes of art-based placemaking, moving from the city to the neighborhood and further to the individual practice. It juxtaposes the voice of the practitioner and professional alongside that of the researcher and academic. Section Five tackles the socio-economic and environmental placemaking issues deemed pertinent to emerge more sustainable placemaking practices. Section Six emphasizes placemaking's intersection with urban design and planning sectors and includes case studies of generative planning practice. The final seventh section draws on the expertise of placemakers, researchers, and evaluators to present the key questions, today's new methods, and approaches to evaluation of placemaking in related fields and notions for the future of evaluation practices. Each section opens with an introduction to help the reader navigate the text. This organization of the book considers the sectors that operate alongside the core placemaking practice. Stiefel, Jeremy C. Wells, 2014-09-02 Over the past twenty years there has been a fundamental shift in the institutional organization of historic preservation education Historic preservation is the most recent arrival in the collection of built environment disciplines and therefore lacks the pedagogical depth and breadth found in allied endeavors such as architecture and planning As the first degree programs in preservation only date to the 1970s and the first doctoral programs to the 1990s new faculty are confronted with pedagogical challenges that are unique to this relatively nascent field Based on a conference that included educators from around the world Barry L Stiefel and Jeremy C Wells now present a collection that seeks to address fundamental issues of preservation pedagogy outcome based education and assessment and global issues of authenticity and significance in historic preservation The editors argue that the subject of the analysis has shifted from What is the best way to fix a historic building to What are the best ways for teaching people how to preserve historic properties and why according to the various standards that have been established This important reconsideration of the state of the field in historic preservation education will appeal to a broad audience across numerous disciplines The Planner's Use of Information Hemalata C. last hundred years not because of traffic population growth or other practical hurdles but because of ill considered theories emerging from Modernism and reactions to it The errors of urban design over the last century are too great not to question The solutions being offered today sustainability walkability smart and green technologies hint at what has been lost and what may be regained but they remain piecemeal and superficial In The Art of Classic Planning architect and planner Nir Haim Buras documents and extends the time tested and holistic practices that held sway before the reign of Modernism With hundreds of full color illustrations and photographs that will captivate architects planners administrators and developers The Art of Classic Planning restores and revitalizes the foundations of urban planning Inspired by venerable cities like Kyoto Vienna and Venice and by the great successes of L'Enfant's Washington Haussmann's Paris and Burnham's Chicago Buras combines theory and a host of examples to arrive at clear guidelines for best practices in classic planning for today's world The Art of Classic Planning celebrates the enduring principles of urban design and invites us to return to building beautiful cities

Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility Un-Habitat, 2013-10-30 Urban transport systems worldwide are faced by a multitude of challenges Among the most visible of these are the traffic gridlocks experienced on city roads and highways all over the world The prescribed solution to transport problems in most cities has thus been to build more infrastructures for cars with a limited number of cities improving public transport systems in a sustainable manner However a number of challenges faced by urban transport systems such as greenhouse gas emissions noise and air pollution and road traffic accidents do not necessarily get solved by the construction of new infrastructure Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility argues that the development of sustainable urban transport systems requires a conceptual leap The purpose of transportation and mobility is to gain access to destinations activities services and goods Thus access is the ultimate objective of transportation As a result urban planning and design should focus on how to bring people and places together by creating cities that focus on accessibility rather than simply increasing the length of urban transport infrastructure or increasing the movement of people or goods Urban form and the functionality of the city are therefore a major focus of this report which highlights the importance of integrated land use and transport planning This new report of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme UN Habitat the world s leading authority on urban issues provides some thought provoking insights and policy recommendations on how to plan and design sustainable urban mobility systems The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date global assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Preceding issues of the report have addressed such topics as Cities in a Globalizing World The Challenge of Slums Financing Urban Shelter Enhancing Urban Safety and Security Planning Sustainable Cities and Cities and Climate Change Planning Melbourne Robin Goodman,Michael Buxton,Susie Moloney,2016-07-01 For more than a decade Melbourne has had the fastest growing population of any Australian capital city It is expanding outward while also growing upward through vast new high rise developments in the inner suburbs With an estimated 1.6 million additional homes needed by 2050 planners and policymakers need to address current and emerging issues of amenity function productive capacity and social cohesion today Planning Melbourne reflects on planning since the post war era but focuses in particular on the past two decades and the ways that key government policies and influential individuals and groups have shaped the city during this time The book examines past debates and policies the choices planners have faced and the mistakes and sound decisions that have been made Current issues are also addressed including housing affordability transport choices protection of green areas and heritage and urban consolidation If Melbourne s identity is to be shaped as a prospering socially integrated and environmentally sustainable city a new approach to governance and spatial planning is needed and this book provides a call to action Mobile Computing and Wireless Networks: Concepts, Methodologies, Tools, and Applications Management Association, Information Resources,2015-09-30 We live in a wireless society one where convenience and accessibility determine the efficacy of the latest electronic gadgets and mobile devices Making the most of these technologies and ensuring their security against potential attackers requires increased diligence in mobile technology research and development Mobile Computing and Wireless Networks Concepts Methodologies Tools and Applications brings together a comprehensive range of voices and research in the area of mobile and wireless technologies exploring the successes and failures advantages and drawbacks and benefits and limitations of the technology With applications in a plethora of different research and topic areas this multi volume reference work benefits researchers service providers end users and information technology professionals This four volume reference work includes a diverse array of chapters and authors covering topics such as m commerce network ethics mobile agent systems mobile learning communications infrastructure and applications in
