Marketing reversed prior business logic 50 years ago and said the customer is king and the companies began to recognize that it was not just the product that was the most important aspect of their business Companies recognized that consumers had a myriad of choices of product offerings and marketing was responsible to ensure that the company's products had the benefits and attributes that customers wanted and were willing to pay for Today considering the technology development which influences every function of the company the focus of the successful marketing oriented companies has changed from the customer is king to the customer is a dictator However and despite the new trends in marketing like any social science marketing has basic principles and these principles need to be considered when making any type of marketing decisions So the major step of a student of marketing whether it is a young university student or an experienced business executive is to understand the principles of marketing and reading the present book will be the first step in accomplishing this task This book describes these basic principles of marketing and while the authors recognize that each decision may be slightly different from any previous decision the rules or principles remain the same The present book presents these basic marketing principles and tries to capture the essence of practical and modern marketing today Therefore the purpose of Principles of Marketing is to introduce readers to the fascinating world of marketing today in an easy enjoyable and practical way offering an attractive text from which to learn about and teach marketing Management Research by Practitioners

Reno Symmank, Patric Spethmann, 2018-05-23 This handbook focus on management research by practitioners The book would not have been possible without the German cohort 6 who set the forum for lively discussions and supported all researchers on their journey to its doctorate The book is set up in three chapters Chapter I One of the main triggers for this thesis was my direct experience of the financial crisis as it showed that many principles and assumptions that were believed to be carved in stone were challenged overnight Investors lost confidence as Corporate Governance turned out to be very poor in reality although companies consistently declared in their disclosures that they followed good Corporate governance guidelines This section develops a Corporate governance reporting taxonomy which can be used for electronic reporting and is the basis for the digitalisation in accounting A mixed method approach is applied which combines qualitative and quantitative research methods Chapter II deals with an analysis of marketing process governance in multinational enterprises and is based on an empirical analysis of FT500 index corporations. The literature showed that there is currently little substantial understanding of how activities and processes in marketing can be sourced and geographically relocated. However, there is substantial evidence in scholarly and managerial literature that marketing process reallocation is a subject of increasing attention for the last five years.

Chapter III focus on out of stock situations (OOS) in retail stores. One of the major advantages of store based retail formats is the availability of products. The unavailability of products is a major threat for store based retail formats as OOS situations are considered to be some of the most displeasing occurrences for consumers resulting in dissatisfaction. As avoiding or recovering from OOS situations are matters of allocating limited resources (e.g. staff, money) wherever they are most effective, this work recommends actions that retailers can take to manage OOS occurrences at store based retail formats to increase consumer satisfaction.

All three researchers describe in their reflexive diaries how they managed to be successful on their long journey to the finalisation of their thesis. We all three would also like to thank our supervisors and all of our contributors. Let the words speak for themselves.
